Skeleton Of Indian Found

The Aboriginal Explorers Club, which has uncovered numerous artifacts in the Tri-State District, has another new find to its credit.

Ray Simoni of Smiths Ferry, a member, is shown with an Indian skeleton uncovered in diggings at a village site near the mouth of Yellow Creek.

The skeleton was found by Simoni and has been registered by Richard S. Thompson, club secretary. The skeleton was found in a circular pit 38 inches in diameter and 27 inches deep. It was lying on the right side facing the Ohio River.

Simoni said an arrow head was found in the rib cage, indicating the man had been killed by an arrow. Near one of the arms a turtle bowl was found.

The skeleton was 5-feet-7 and the skull had very large cheek bones. Checks indicate the Indian was 25 to 30 years old and was of the late prehistorical period of 1600 A. D. to 900 A. D. The entire skeleton was in a fair state of preservation.

The finding of the Indian burial was one of the outstanding discoveries at the village site. During the excavation, large numbers of pottery bowl fragments were found. Most of the pottery was shell tempered, indicating an early-time period in the manufacture, the club said. Numerous arrow heads and the bones of small game also were found.

Harry R. Cline of Wellsville found several round pottery beads and a bone gouge. Also excavating were Harry M. Cline, Jim Monte and Jim Woodrow, all of Wellsville, and Harold A. Dawson and William B. Patterson, both of East Liverpool.

House Vote Set Today On Budget Bill

Asks $1.8 Billion Spending To Run Ohio For 2 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature's big money bill comes to a vote in the House today. It calls for state spending of $1,808,496,400 in the next two years, practically every dollar of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's record tax-increase program.

House passage of the biennial budget bill usually signals the end of a legislative session about six weeks in advance.

That gives the Senate Finance Committee six weeks to study and revise the budget. But, this year, don't bet on that six weeks rule of thumb. You might be closer if you bet on 10 weeks—late July—for final adjournment of the 103rd General Assembly.

The House, rested and ready after a bout with DiSalle's 360-million-dollar tax increase, will be willing to call it a session soon. It probably will adopt an adjournment resolution calling for a final working date late in June.

But the Senate, still struggling with a whole batch of tax and other money problems, probably will ignore for weeks to come the House's impatience to be gone.

The House appears earnestly dedicated to a cleanup of its pressing problems in the next few weeks. In addition to the big money bill, the House has on its floor-vote calendar for today bills to:

Put into effect a constitutional amendment adopted by the voters to permit Ohio newcomers who have not yet established local voting residence to cast their votes for President and vice president.

And, Wednesday, the House will vote on a measure to kill off the traditional "replacement cost new (RCN)" formula for determining the value of utility plants—the

Gromyko Told By Herter Of Reaction If Deadline Is Set

GENEVA (AP) — The United States has warned the Soviet Union that President Eisenhower will refuse to attend a summit conference if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sets some new deadline for a Communist squeeze play on West Berlin.

Informants said the American warning was prompted by a suspicion that Khrushchev would try such a move if the Big Four foreign ministers' conference turns out to be what he considers a failure.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in plain words at a dinner party a few nights ago what the U. S. reaction would be.

Khrushchev originally set a May 27 deadline for the Western Allies to end their occupation of West Berlin and said that on that date he would give the East German Communists control of the Allied supply routes to West Berlin.

He later postponed the deadline indefinitely. Should he revive it and hand over traffic control to the East Germans, this would raise the danger of a Berlin blockade. The United States reportedly is determined to reject any summit conference held under a Soviet threat.

Gromyko assured Herter that the Soviet Union had no ulterior motives in proposing a peace settlement now with divided Germany.

Herter reminded Gromyko of the May 27 deadline and said that the existence of any deadline made it difficult to believe that the Soviets did not have hidden purposes.

Gromyko said he was sorry that Herter had mentioned the date of May 27. He himself had not planned to bring it up in Geneva except possibly at the end of the conference. To Herter, that sounded as if it might be a veiled hint of a new threat.

Thereupon Herter told Gromyko that anyone who thought the President of the United States would go to a summit conference under

Defense Chief Makes Announcement With New Aide At Side

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neil H. McElroy said today he will stay on indefinitely as secretary of defense.

They had just conferred with President Eisenhower.

"I have suspended my plans for departure," McElroy said. "I don't know when I will be leaving, if at all."

Asked whether that means he intends to stay in the Cabinet indefinitely, McElroy replied that was the best way to put it.

Eisenhower Monday picked Gates, who is retiring as secretary of the Navy at the end of the month, to succeed the late Donald A. Quarles as deputy secretary of defense.

There had been speculation that Eisenhower had persuaded Gates to stay on at the Pentagon by telling him he is in line to take over behind McElroy. He had been planning to step out June 1 as secretary of the Navy.

Prior to Quarles' death McElroy had said several times that he wanted to leave his Cabinet post by the end of the year to return to private business.

Even in his statement today the defense chief did not rule out the possibility of his resigning before the end of Eisenhower's tenure in office.

He simply said that as of now he has suspended plans to leave.

Gates had been planning to return to his investment banking business in Philadelphia.

As for his change of plans, Gates remarked with a smile:

"I couldn't think of any reason not to do it, except that I didn't want to, and that wasn't good enough."

Hike Of Millions Noted For Valuations

Columbiana County's total tax valuation — for real estate, public utilities and tangible personal property — totals $193,969,851, an increase of $4.6 million from the 1957 valuation of $189,376,982 State Auditor James Rhodes reported today at Columbus.

The 1958 valuation includes $121,752,132 inside municipalities. The statewide total is almost $26 billion, an increase of $1.3 billion over 1957 with all but one of the 88 counties — Paulding — showing an increase.

City Will Act For Lowering Hill Rd. Speed

Ending a long-standing controversy that has involved all three branches of the city government, the police department and motorists, Council agreed Monday night to consider legislation consenting to a State Highway Department decision to cut the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." speed limit to 35 miles an hour from 50.

Planning to act at its next meeting June 1, Council will consider a resolution asking the State Highway Department to fix the limit at 35 — the limit which the state determined as the maximum safe speed in an engineering survey.

But the limit will be set at 25 on a sharp curve at the west end of the "Hill Rd.," where it passes the end of Ravine St. and starts a downgrade to link with E. 5th St. At the west end of the stretch there already is a 20-mile limit for the Garfield School zone.

The question of the "Hill Rd." speed limit dates back at least a year, when police cited several drivers for exceeding the city's then 35-mile limit. Studying state law, Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw decided that the city had no authority to set the limit so low, as the stretch is part of State Route 39. State laws sets up general rules a municipality must follow to establishing speed limits on state routes.

Taking the only "out" in the law, former Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti asked the state to make an engineering survey and determine the safe maximum speed for the stretch.

Last night's Council action was the result of that survey. Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross

House Faces New Fight On Housing Bill

Showdown Vote Due Wednesday; Result Looms As Tossup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual public housing battle starts today in the House, with a showdown vote scheduled for Wednesday and the outcome a tossup.

Directly at issue is a Democratic-backed proposal to continue construction of government-subsidized public housing. This is opposed by the administration.

Caught in the crossfire, but not in controversy, is continuation of the Federal Housing Administration's home mortgage insurance program. The FHA has used up almost all of its current insurance authorization and soon may be forced to turn down all new applications for mortgage guarantees.

A 10-billion-dollar increase in the insurance authorization is provided for in today's bill, drafted by a House Banking subcommittee headed by Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala).

But the Rains measure also includes other provisions opposed by most Republicans and some Democrats. It would provide authority for 1½ billion dollars for slum elimination and urban renewal projects, 400 millions for college housing, 100 millions for housing for the elderly, lower FHA down payments, and 140,000 new units of low-rent public housing.

City Provides Road Funds

$5,700 For Hill Rd. Cleared By Council

Council appropriated $5,700 Monday night as the city's share of a State Highway Department project under which a new blacktop surface will be applied to E. 5th St. and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." between Broadway and Maple St.

The money was appropriated out of the local "state highway improvement fund," the percentage the city is required to set aside each year from money it receives from gasoline taxes and auto license fees.

The county also will contribute $5,700 toward the $35,000 project. Originally, the city's share was fixed at $11,400, but the county agreed to assume half. Mayor Fred P. Lawrence first was advised April 22 of the Highway Department's plans for the work.

The same measure provided $1,600 more in appropriations and a $600 transfer to the fire department's equipment fund.

The appropriations are $1,000 for the municipal swimming pool at Thompson Park, $500 for fire department incidentals and $100 for incidentals in the mayor's office.

Councilman A. Stanley Kidder remarked that he wished to clear up a public misconception that the $1,000 appropriation indicates the municipal pool is not self-sustaining. As money collected at the pool is required by law to go into the city's general fund, Council must make an appropriation at the beginning of each season to provide funds for payrolls and other initial expenses, he said.

But the $1,000 appropriation will come back to the city through admissions at the pool, Kidder said.

Board Approves City's Income Tax Vote Asked By Labor

The Columbiana County Election Board, meeting at its East Liverpool office Monday night, accepted the withdrawals of three Democratic candidates who had been nominated at the May 5 primaries to run for offices at the Nov. 3 general election in Columbiana, Leetonia and Salem.

The withdrawal requests were filed by Gaylord A. Zellers, Council nominee at Columbiana; Dino Vincent Sposato, seeking a Council seat at Leetonia, and Mrs. Mary M. Bryan, the party's nominee for council president in Salem.

One of the ticket vacancies also was filled last night when the board accepted a certification from Columbiana village members of the Democratic Central Committee to list Ray E. Brubaker as a candidate for Council in place of Zellers.

The Election Board also granted a ballot place for a referendum sought by Trades and Labor Council on East Liverpool's new income tax ordinance. The board acted after City Auditor H. J. Gallimore certified yesterday that petitions circulated by the central body contained more than the minimum number required by law for a ballot place. The auditor also certified to the board a copy of the questioned ordinance.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said a summary of the 26-page tax ordinance will be listed on the November ballot. At the same time, the board will post in each precinct polling place the complete text of the ordinance to allow its study by voters, O'Hanlon explained. Law allows the board to summarize the issue on the ballot if the complete text is posted in each voting place.

The board accepted petitions that were filed by independent candidates for the November election before the Feb. 4 filing deadline. They include Municipal Judge

Hancock Sees Light Vote On School Issue

The weatherman co-operated with bright, sunny skies but a lack of interest on the part of voters will result in an exceptionally light turnout in Hancock County's special election today for an additional 50 per cent levy for better schools, a forenoon check of precincts indicated.

Poll workers in all three of the county's districts — Grant, Clay and Butler — reported an unusually light turnout this morning but predicted heavier voting this afternoon following working hours.

Polls will close at 8:30 tonight.

The levy is designed to raise $2 million over a 5-year period with funds to be used for implementing an extensive list of modern teaching improvements, including an efficient counseling system.

At the Grandview School in Lawrenceville (Pct. 5), only 5 had voted this morning. Ten had cast ballots in Pct. 2 at Chester Central School. Workers in Pct. 7 at the Jefferson School in Newell reported a vote of 9.

An official of the Chester Grandview polling site reported that in

Interim Rate Boost Granted Gas Utilities

Hancock Customers Of Manufacturers To Pay More For Fuel

Gas bills for 168,000 West Virginia customers have gone up by more than a million dollars a year.

The West Virginia Public Service Commission Monday at Charleston approved interim rate increases for United Fuel Gas Co. and the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. The effective date was last Friday.

Both companies are affiliates of the Columbis Gas System. Both have larger rate increases pending before the PSC.

Yesterday's orders were given to cover higher charges put into effect Friday by wholesale suppliers.

United Fuel, which has about 119,000 customers in the state, estimated that the effect would be $982,000 more in revenue a year.

Such an estimate was not available for Manufacturers, which serves about 49,000 customers in the Northern Panhandle, including Hancock County.

City Man Indicted In Newell Road Death

William Swoger, 22, of 1432 Dresden Ave., was cited for involuntary manslaughter—a misdemeanor—in the traffic death of Howard A. Strum, 44, of Newell April 17 on Route 66.

Swoger, who was arraigned and pleaded not guilty, was the driver of a sports car that struck Strum on the highway south of Newell. Swoger's trial was set for Sept. 16. He was represented by Atty. William Conklin of Chester.

After hearing information presented by Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton, the jurors also indicted three Weirton residents:

Miss Alice Terry for a felonious shooting.

Robert E. Ford, five counts of felony for breaking and entering.

A capias was issued for the arrest of Miss Terry. Information against Robert Bennett and Arthur Howell was not heard by the panel because the complaining

Panel Discussion Held

Further Emphasis Placed Upon Industrial Planning

Industrial development was turned inside out Monday night and in the final analysis the East Liverpool district had cause both for optimism and pessimism.

The occasion was the spring membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Country Club. More than 160 were present.

Providing the "meat" of the discussion was a panel of development experts.

They included Robert L. Wolf of Canton, director of area development for the Ohio Power Co.; Walter Durkin of Wellsburg of the Monongahela Power Co.; Clayton Gill of the industrial department of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Pittsburgh; Kenneth Harsh, representing the industrial development department of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., and Walter Myers Jr., executive director of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council.

Pertinent points were fired from many directions, with one of the most telling that from Durkin in which he emphasized the need for a positive approach as against the negative and the vital importance of "selling" a community.

Water Cutoff Step Asked To Back Downspout Check

The city administration asked Council Monday night to give it authority to turn off water service for householders who will not allow an inspection to determine if their downspouts are emptying illegally into the sanitary sewer system and helping overtax the new sewage disposal plant.

Although the city has attempted to step up its check for illegal connections, Inspector Floyd E. Tice has run into an impasse with many householders who refuse him permission to go onto their property to make the inspection, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council.

Councilmen indicated they will study the problem and probably will consider legislation to put teeth into the city's inspection ordinance.

The director and the solicitor pointed out that the city's sewage treatment ordinance makes it illegal for downspouts and other surface water to be drained into a sanitary sewer and requiring the inspector to check on every household for compliance. But there is now no way that he can make

Hancock Sees Light Vote On School Issue

The weatherman co-operated with bright, sunny skies but a lack of interest on the part of voters will result in an exceptionally light turnout in Hancock County's special election today for an additional 50 per cent levy for better schools, a forenoon check of precincts indicated.

Poll workers in all three of the county's districts — Grant, Clay and Butler — reported an unusually light turnout this morning but predicted heavier voting this afternoon following working hours.

Polls will close at 8:30 tonight.

The levy is designed to raise $2 million over a 5-year period with funds to be used for implementing an extensive list of modern teaching improvements, including an efficient counseling system.

At the Grandview School in Lawrenceville (Pct. 5), only 5 had voted this morning. Ten had cast ballots in Pct. 2 at Chester Central School. Workers in Pct. 7 at the Jefferson School in Newell reported a vote of 9.

An official of the Chester Grandview polling site reported that in

Interim Rate Boost Granted Gas Utilities

Hancock Customers Of Manufacturers To Pay More For Fuel

Gas bills for 168,000 West Virginia customers have gone up by more than a million dollars a year.

The West Virginia Public Service Commission Monday at Charleston approved interim rate increases for United Fuel Gas Co. and the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. The effective date was last Friday.

Both companies are affiliates of the Columbis Gas System. Both have larger rate increases pending before the PSC.

Yesterday's orders were given to cover higher charges put into effect Friday by wholesale suppliers.

United Fuel, which has about 119,000 customers in the state, estimated that the effect would be $982,000 more in revenue a year.

Such an estimate was not available for Manufacturers, which serves about 49,000 customers in the Northern Panhandle, including Hancock County.

Manslaughter Charge Found

City Man Indicted In Newell Road Death

William Swoger, 22, of 1432 Dresden Ave., was cited for involuntary manslaughter—a misdemeanor—in the traffic death of Howard A. Strum, 44, of Newell April 17 on Route 66.

Swoger, who was arraigned and pleaded not guilty, was the driver of a sports car that struck Strum on the highway south of Newell. Swoger's trial was set for Sept. 16. He was represented by Atty. William Conklin of Chester.

After hearing information presented by Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton, the jurors also indicted three Weirton residents:

Miss Alice Terry for a felonious shooting.

Robert E. Ford, five counts of felony for breaking and entering.

A capias was issued for the arrest of Miss Terry. Information against Robert Bennett and Arthur Howell was not heard by the panel because the complaining

Panel Discussion Held

Further Emphasis Placed Upon Industrial Planning

Industrial development was turned inside out Monday night and in the final analysis the East Liverpool district had cause both for optimism and pessimism.

The occasion was the spring membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Country Club. More than 160 were present.

Providing the "meat" of the discussion was a panel of development experts.

They included Robert L. Wolf of Canton, director of area development for the Ohio Power Co.; Walter Durkin of Wellsburg of the Monongahela Power Co.; Clayton Gill of the industrial department of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Pittsburgh; Kenneth Harsh, representing the industrial development department of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., and Walter Myers Jr., executive director of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council.

Pertinent points were fired from many directions, with one of the most telling that from Durkin in which he emphasized the need for a positive approach as against the negative and the vital importance of "selling" a community.

Council Approval Sought

Water Cutoff Step Asked To Back Downspout Check

The city administration asked Council Monday night to give it authority to turn off water service for householders who will not allow an inspection to determine if their downspouts are emptying illegally into the sanitary sewer system and helping overtax the new sewage disposal plant.

Although the city has attempted to step up its check for illegal connections, Inspector Floyd E. Tice has run into an impasse with many householders who refuse him permission to go onto their property to make the inspection, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council.

Councilmen indicated they will study the problem and probably will consider legislation to put teeth into the city's inspection ordinance.

The director and the solicitor pointed out that the city's sewage treatment ordinance makes it illegal for downspouts and other surface water to be drained into a sanitary sewer and requiring the inspector to check on every household for compliance. But there is now no way that he can make

Columbiana County's total tax valuation — for real estate, public utilities and tangible personal property — totals $193,969,851, an increase of $4.6 million from the 1957 valuation of $189,376,982 State Auditor James Rhodes reported today at Columbus.

The 1958 valuation includes $121,752,132 inside municipalities. The statewide total is almost $26 billion, an increase of $1.3 billion over 1957 with all but one of the 88 counties — Paulding — showing an increase.

Council Move Taken On Gas At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night passed on first reading an ordinance accepting a new rate schedule submitted by the East Ohio Gas Co.

Although Council is not in accord with the 12 per cent across-the-board increase being asked by the firm, the move was made to protect the franchise which expires May 28. No further action will be taken on the legislation until a compromise is reached in Cleveland, where a legal battle is under way against the proposed increase.

Council has indicated it will go along with whatever increase the firm receives. Legislation was ordered prohibiting "false and untrue" advertising. No one firm or store was mentioned. Council said the move was made "to protect the buying public and legitimate merchants."

Council received a renewal of its permit to operate the city disposal plant for another year. The state recommended several improvements to the plant. These were referred to the sanitary engineer for study.

the inspection if he is barred by the householder, they explained.

Surface water draining into the sanitary lines poses a serious problem to the treatment plan, Ross declared. Although one major segment of the sewer system — the Carpenters Run trunk line — still is not connected into the West End treatment plant, the machinery must be operated at capacity during heavy rain storms to take care of the high inflow, he said.

This indicates that a large volume of water now flowing into the plant comes from downspouts, as the inflow picks up heavily during rains, the director said.

The illegal flow of surface water must be eliminated before the Carpenters Run trunk line can be hooked into the plant, as the system now operates at capacity at times, the director said. The Carpenters Run line was not hooked into the plant when it went into operation early this year because the trunk sewer requires major repairs on breaks.

To check for illegal connections, the inspector dumps a dye solution into the downspout, then checks at the nearest sanitary sewer manhole to find if he can spot the tell-tale color, Ross explained.

A system of numbered table tennis balls was tried experimentally, but it proved unsuccessful, Ross explained. The idea was to drop one of the celluloid balls down the downspout, noting the householder's name and address and the corresponding number of the ball. If the ball turned up at the treatment plant, it showed the downspout was hooked onto the sanitary system.

But the balls require so long to make the trip to the plant that the idea is unsatisfactory, plus the fact that "a lot of them haven't showed up anywhere yet," Ross said ruefully.

Johnson pleaded guilty and was placed in county jail.

Trucker Due Citation In Double Road Deaths

A charge of second degree manslaughter was to be filed today at East Palestine by the State Highway Patrol against Jack W. Bartson, 21, of Fremont, driver of a tractor-trailer truck which smashed head-on into a car at Williamsport Saturday, fatally injuring two Elkton area men.

William L. Cameron, 42, of near Elkton, the car driver, died at City Hospital Saturday night of injuries suffered in the collision, and his father, Frank L. Cameron, 64, a passenger, died Sunday night.

The patrol said the charge would be filed sometime today either before Mayor Paul Merwin or County Judge Earl Spalding.

Double services for the two victims, who formerly resided in East Liverpool, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the Martin Funeral Home.

St. Paul is 10 miles away from its "twin city" Minneapolis.

George L. Brokaw and Atty. W. S. Foulks, both candidates for the bench in the city court, and Lyle Perkins, for mayor of Columbiana village.

In the November voting, Judge Brokaw and Atty. Foulks will oppose Atty. Samuel M. Cheroff, who was nominated for judge on the Democratic ticket in the May primaries without opposition.

The election will be decided in East Liverpool and Liverpool Township, which comprise the Municipal Court district.

Although Atty. Andrew J. Coleman was nominated without opposition as the GOP judge candidate May 5, he had been dead a month when the primary was held. Therefore, the GOP committeemen in this area have the right to select another candidate to run in November, provided the action is taken before the legal deadline. Law does not permit listing a deceased person's name on the ballot.

In connection with the withdrawals of the Democratic candidates in Columbiana, Leetonia and Salem, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said the three sent the board letters officially asking that their names be withdrawn, but not listing any reasons.

He pointed out that law gives any candidate the right to withdraw by Aug. 14. The law also allows the controlling party committee in the affected area to fill the ticket vacancy, O'Hanlon explained.

Both Zellers and Sposato were nominated without opposition, as skipped the primaries under the Ohio "no contest" law.

In Columbiana's general election, Perkins will run against Erwood Calvin, the incumbent Democratic mayor, and Wayne Paulson, Republican, a newspaper publisher. Calvin and Paulson were nominated without opposition May 5.

reported he has received a letter from the Highway Department's Division 11 office reporting that the survey showed the maximum safe speed is 35. But before the state will cut the limit Council must enact a resolution asking the action, he explained.

In the earlier phases of the controversy on the speed limit, the question was discussed several times on the Council floor. So the problem eventually concerned all three branches of the city government — legislative, executive and judicial.

After hearing the director's report last night, Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. moved for the legislation for the lower speed limit, seconded by Councilman William Y. Orr.

Ross declared that he believes 35 is a safe speed, considering the rough condition of the "Hill Rd." pavement in spots, plus the fact the guard rails are deteriorated to the point where they would not halt a speeding car headed for a plunge over the embankment.

"I think this warrants quick action, considering the condition of the pavement and the guard rails," Councilman H. A. Tullis commented. "It may save a life."

duress or threat of a cut-off date had better forget it.

As the Big Four talks moved through their second week, the Western leaders were considering a bid by Gromyko to break up their package plan for a German settlement and remove four points from it for discussion.

It was expected that the Western ministers would agree to talk about these points but that they might seek to exact some price from Gromyko in return. And they were reported determined to avoid the impression that they were scrapping the rest of the package program, which Gromyko rejected in his strong speech to the conference Monday.

In a private conference with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Gromyko echoed a suggestion of Khrushchev that neutral troops might be called in to police a free West Berin.

A Western official gave this account of that talk:

"You have rejected the Western plan on Berlin," Lloyd said. "Now, what are the possibilities for an agreement?"

Gromyko then stated that three possible arrangements could be discussed:

Pastor Accepts Local Church At Presbytery Event

A new minister was installed, another accepted a call to an East Liverpool church and commissioners were elected for the Ohio Synod at an adjourned meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Monday night at the Bethel Presbyterian Church near Highlandtown.

The Rev. Joseph Varner Jr., of the congregation from the Utah Conference, was installed as new pastor of the Bethel church. He received his charge from his father, the Rev. Joseph Varner, a retired Presbyterian minister from the Wooster Presbytery. Dr. A. K. Davison of the First United Presbyterian Church, Presbytery moderator, presided.

Rev. Varner, a bachelor, will reside at the parsonage.

The Rev. Emmanuel Emmanuel of the Protestant Reformed Church in Wisconsin accepted a call presented him by the Second United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Emmanuel will be installed Friday, June 19. He will replace the Rev. Robert Helstrom, who left about six months ago. Rev. Emmanuel left for Wisconsin today and expects to return early in June.

Six ministers and six elders were elected as commissioners to the Synod sessions June 16-20 at Wooster.

The group adjourned to meet Wednesday, June 10, to install a new minister at the Toronto Presbyterian Church.

United Fuel customers now will be paying $1.80 for the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas used a month instead of $1.75. At each succeeding step in the rate scale, the increase amounts to 4.08 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Total increases asked by the two companies amount to an estimated $4,700,000 in added annual revenue for United Fuel and $2,057,000 for Manufacturers.

They said when filing for these changes a few weeks ago that they should be allowed to put into effect immediately as big a part of the totals as would be necessary to offset increases allowed their pipeline suppliers by the Federal Power Commission.

The PSC accordingly suspended all of the increases except those designated parts. The remainder will remain suspended until Aug. 30 for United Fuel and Sept. 12 for Manufacturers.

If final decisions have not been reached by these dates, the companies may start charging the total increases. However, they would have to do so under bond to cover refunds to customers in the event the PSC ultimately allowed a smaller amount.

Balloting At Midland Termed 'Very Light'

A "very light" vote was cast in the first three hours the polls were open in Midland this morning for the Beaver County and statewide primaries.

The light balloting also was reported throughout the county. The total vote is expected to be light, election observers said, predicting 40 per cent of the Republicans and 50 per cent of the Democrats will go the polls.

Only 196 votes had been cast by 11 a. m. in 3 of 5 precincts in Midland, election workers said.

The First Precinct reported 35 Republicans and 28 Democrats while the Second Precinct listed 30 Democrats and 15 Republicans. The Fourth precinct reported 71 Democratic ballots and 17 Republican had voted.

They were cited by East Liverpool police for soliciting funds in connection with the cerebral palsy telethon over WSTV.

They had collected a total of $3 when picked up. They told Judge Louis Tobin they were going to send the money to the Steubenville station and that they were not collecting it for themselves. Both used parts household canister sets as coin receptacles, Judge Tobin said.

Court Suspends Driver Permits, Another Spared

LISBON — The driver's licenses of Charles W. Parker, 45, of East Palestine R. D. 2 and Charles Akelson, 48, of Kensington R. D. 1 were suspended for one year each by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Monday.

The suspension was ordered on evidence both men had twice been convicted of driving while intoxicated.

Paul Crowl, 33, of Columbiana whose license was suspended in March because he accumulated 12 points on the state demerit system, was permitted to apply for a restricted license allowing him to drive a truck for business.

Judge Sharp indicated an allowance may be made for Crowl to drive because of uncertainties connected with Crowl's last arrest for leaving a scene of an accident after he and the other driver agreed to settle damages between them.

Columbiana police cited Crowl for leaving the scene because he failed to report the accident to them, but Judge Sharp said such a neglect does not constitute leaving the scene. He agreed to modify the March suspension.

Judge Sharp did not suspend the license of Ernest J. Cozza of Salem R. D. 2, ruling that although Cozza had 12 points of violations, some did not constitute moving traffic violations—such as driving with an expired license. However, none of the points was deleted from his record.

2 Boys In Solicitation Returned To Parents

Two East Liverpool boys, 13 and 16, were returned to their homes Monday after they appeared in Juvenile Court on a charge of soliciting money without authorization.

They were cited by East Liverpool police for soliciting funds in connection with the cerebral palsy telethon over WSTV.

They had collected a total of $3 when picked up. They told Judge Louis Tobin they were going to send the money to the Steubenville station and that they were not collecting it for themselves. Both used parts household canister sets as coin receptacles, Judge Tobin said.

The money was turned over to the East Liverpool unit of the United Cerebral Palsy association, which sponsored the fund-raising event.

Court Suspends Driver Permits, Another Spared

LISBON — The driver's licenses of Charles W. Parker, 45, of East Palestine R. D. 2 and Charles Akelson, 48, of Kensington R. D. 1 were suspended for one year each by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Monday.

The suspension was ordered on evidence both men had twice been convicted of driving while intoxicated.

Paul Crowl, 33, of Columbiana whose license was suspended in March because he accumulated 12 points on the state demerit system, was permitted to apply for a restricted license allowing him to drive a truck for business.

Judge Sharp indicated an allowance may be made for Crowl to drive because of uncertainties connected with Crowl's last arrest for leaving a scene of an accident after he and the other driver agreed to settle damages between them.

Columbiana police cited Crowl for leaving the scene because he failed to report the accident to them, but Judge Sharp said such a neglect does not constitute leaving the scene. He agreed to modify the March suspension.

Judge Sharp did not suspend the license of Ernest J. Cozza of Salem R. D. 2, ruling that although Cozza had 12 points of violations, some did not constitute moving traffic violations—such as driving with an expired license. However, none of the points was deleted from his record.

Extreme Nervousness In Poplarville

For many days there has been a state of nervous tension in Poplarville, Miss. The cause is the presence of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Its agents are in town to investigate the lynching of Mark Charles Parker, a Negro. They are not willing to settle for the cursory look-see that is customary after Negroes have been lynched in the Deep South.

They are doing the thorough job of investigation that has been their trademark for half a generation — the thorough kind of job that solved the Boston Brinks robbery, kept the Nazis at bay in World War II and makes U.S. Communists wonder if it's worth the effort to plot the overthrow of the United States.

All this is being done in a state and in a town whose citizens do not regard the lynching of Negroes as much of a crime — more like second-degree manslaughter than anyanything else. It is being done at a time when millions of enraged Southerners are doing everything but take down the rifles over the mantlepiece to show their contempt and hatred for a federal government that now is in its fifth year of effort to give Negroes first-class citizenship in every state of the Union —not just in Hawaii.

The federal government is mindful of the fact the United States either must prove to a world in which colored people are the majority that race hatred is on the defensive here, or face the consequences of prejudice against whites by hundreds of millions of non-whites. A lynching in a place called Poplarville in the state of Mississippi today is a federal problem, not a local incident.

At least one Poplarville resident is so nervous about the FBI and its persistent questioning that a cerebral hemorrhage is being blamed on its presence. Other residents also are in a state of agitation. If it helps them any to know they have company, millions of Americans elsewhere are in a state of nervous tension about Poplarville. If it cannot be brought in line with mid-20th-century thought — it and all the other Poplarville — the United States is in bigger trouble than its worry warts think it's in.

Freedom Works In Both Directions

All of us wish him well. We wish his wife and children well. And on the off chance they may be wanting to come back we'll plug away back home to make things better.

The wheat quotas are wrong-headed.

No one likes them but a coterie of wheat-state politicians and enough of their constituents to keep the politicians in the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate.

This, too, is representative democracy, which can make wrong-headedness just as legal as right-headedness. And in this instance, the wrong-headedness has been compounded and complicated by confusion.

The fact is that no one knows what to do about farmers in our industrialized economy. They are the only major economic group left without collective bargaining power to fight for a big enough share of the national income to keep them farming. They have been going into industry by the millions, but the ones still farming are doing such a good job they are creating price-shattering surpluses. The wheat quotas and the wheat subsidy are the only solution so far to what may prove to be an insoluble problem.

In Australia, farmer Yankus and his family will learn about new problems. Everybody hopes Australia comes up to their expectations; many Australians would like to come here. They may find it hard to understand why the Yankuses came there, instead. It's all under the heading of "Freedom."

Freedom works both ways. People are free to do one thing or another. The Yankuses are of Lithuanian origin. Lithuanians, of course, are not free to come here any more. Americans, for the post part, are free to go anywhere they like. Also to come back if they change their minds and decide that America is worth the mistakes it is making, because a mistake always can be corrected.

Deadline For The Big U.S. Giveaway

It will be unfortunate if Sen. Mansfield's proposal for halting outright grants to foreign countries within three years is misinterpreted as a move to halt all foreign aid.

The assistant leader of the Senate's Democratic majority is not proposing that the United States pull the string on governments that need help. He is proposing that the U.S. program of giving help without any commitment to collect something in return has gone as far as it can go and should be discontinued before it sets off a public reaction "so strong it will swamp the entire undertaking."

The rest of the undertaking would continue to be important. If the Soviet Union steps up its own foreign-aid program, foreign aid could turn into the battleground of the key clash of the cold war.

Barring the possibility of a shooting war, the struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union will be in trade. It will be a contest for power through business influence.

The Soviet Union has paid the ultimate tribute to the success of the U.S. foreign-aid program by copying it. It is doing everything in its considerable power to spread its influence by exports of commodities, technical know-how and credit.

It never was more important for the United States to understand the importance of its own foreign-aid efforts — not the efforts that are being criticized as wasteful and even silly but the efforts that have kept other nations from being isolated against U.S. products, influence and political understanding.

Sen. Mansfield is proposing only that foreign aid be tightened up and put on a businesslike basis — loans, not gifts.

It will be too bad if his criticism of the bad part of foreign aid is interpreted as criticism of the good part, too. He is not criticizing the principle, only the practice of giving away money will-nilly. The principle is to underwrite with U.S. wealth the cost of freedom.

Salute To The BPW

This month, the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club is observing its 20th anniversary.

The organization received its charter May 16, 1939, and had 37 members. Today there are 117 on the roster.

The BPW has a lengthy and impressive record of public service. A recent survey conducted by its Public Affairs Committee disclosed that nearly 6,000 hours were devoted by members during the last year alone to what might be called extra-curricular civic activities.

The Community Fund, Cancer Society, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Cerebral Palsy, Civic Music, Girl Scouts, Heart Fund, Salvation Army, Civilian Defense were among the causes that benefited from the volunteer hours contributed by members of the BPW.

It is good to learn, too, that church work, with a total of 1,833 hours, highlighted the efforts of these busy career women.

The above is a recap of but one year's service. Add the activities of 19 previous years and you have a clear idea of why a salute is in order for the BPW. It is an organization of which any community would be justly proud.

Free world at Geneva suffers from Nice Nellyism, respect for Marquis of Queensbury fight rules and high marks in essays on Book of Etiquette. Our side acts as though seeking an Oscar for best performance in "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

"Have you any candidates for replacements in the Free World lineup?" we asked.

"My top man is Tony Galento," declared Topblower. "I would send him in to represent America, Britain and France. You want my full slate for favorable results for us at Geneva?" We asked for it.

"I would send over Ty Cobb, even at this time of his life, Gen. McAuliffe of 'Nuts to 'em' fame at Bastogne, Edgar Hoover, Robert Moses, and Hollywood's current Tarzan. We could use two platoons against Gromyko and his crew who are operating strictly under the worst rules of modern professional wrestling.

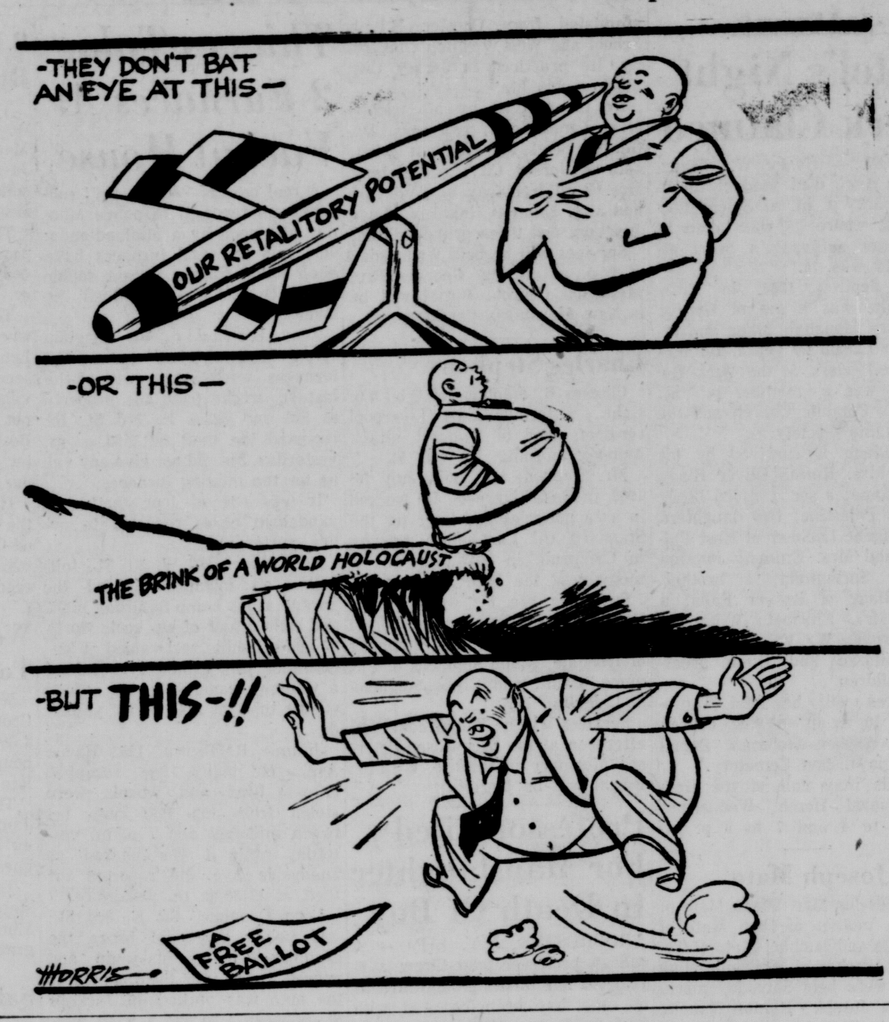
Reds Are The Darndest People!



Hoffa Butters Up The Congressmen

By Victor Riesel

In a series of unreported, private, invitation breakfasts, Jimmy Hoffa's international musclehood of Teamsters has been scrambling eggs, buttering up scores of congressmen and making hash of reformers efforts to push through an anti-racketeering law this session.

Victor Riesel

Recent exposures of mob infiltration into the Teamsters Union and sharp public criticism of Hoffa have not kept important members of the House of Representatives from these breakfasts in Washington's Congressional Hotel near the Capitol.

Typical is the most recent morning bread-breaking. At the invitation of Hofffa and his closest aides, at least 12 New York congresssmen fraternized, spoke and listened to spokesmen for a large delegation of New York Teamster leaders last Tuesday. The labor men were led by Hoffa's intimate friend, Teamster Vice President John O'Rourke.

SOME PEOPLE have difficulty getting congressmen up in the morning. But not the Teamsters. The representatives were not only awake but voluble. One was none other than Brooklyn's Emanuel Celler. He heads the powerful House Judiciary Committee which helps make the laws of the land. There he was in front of a grapefruit saying that he agrees with the Teamsters that there are bad features in the bill passed on to the House by the Senate.

For 15 minutes Rep. Celler said that there should not be a ban on what is sometimes referred to as "blackmail picketing." He thinks that the Kennedy Bill gives too much power to the U.S. secretary of labor. The reform bill hands the Cabinet member the power of subpena — the right to look at the books of unions he believes have filed false data. Mr. Celler said that this puts the government far too far into union affairs.

The impression his listeners got was that he would probably vote against the bill. This session pretty much runs the course for previous breakfasts. Not too long ago, the California Teamsters asked their congressional delegation to split toast with them.

The California solons arrived. The Teamsters were not ready. The members of the Congress of the U.S., including Rep. James Roosevelt, waited patiently for 20 minutes.

THIS IS PART of Hoffa's private kampf against the first anti-racketeering bill in years which has had any chance of passing. About once a week Hoffa calls in Teamster officials from a particular state. Many of these officers have been under heavy criticism by the McClellan committee.

They gather in the Teamster headquarters of an evening. There they are briefed by Hoffa's counsel. They are told that the reform bill is bad and means jail and that no union can be run under its restrictions.

The next morning the same group of men meets at breakfast in the Congressional Hotel with the legislators from their home state. At the coffee-sipping, the Teamster propaganda drive shifts into different gear. Usually their lobbyist, Sam Zagri of St. Louis, talks to the congressmen for about 40 minutes. He says that the Teamsters are against corruption. They want a law, but . . .

Then the congressmen reply. Most of them are friendly.

Word seeping out of these early-bird briefings reveals that not once has a congressman taken the breakfast opportunity to criticize Hoffa or his colleagues. And visitors have been on a first name basis — and bipartisan.

Until this report, none of the congressmen has issued a statement. Nor has any been deterred by the fact that no senator has agreed to sit in on the talks, which Hoffa will continue to call, state by state, right up to the minute the House votes.

So, Perle Mesta's social set had better look to it. After all, Hoffa is the host with the most.

A Sorry Spectacle

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Now—maybe—the foreign ministers at Geneva will cut out the propaganda rigmarole and get down to cases. Reports from there say they may go into secret session. It's about the only way they will get anything done.

So far, from the standpoint of serious negotiations, this meeting of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union has been a sorry spectacle. Each side has been making proposals it knew beforehand the other would not accept. And neither did.

The whole intention of each side up till now seems to have been to get the maximum publicity — meaning propaganda — for its proposals before the other had a chance to say no. They let it be known what they'd say before they ever sat down at the conference table to say it.

It's a tossup on who's ahead on propaganda. If there's any edge, the Soviets have it.

The West can crow that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko lost on his demand that the foreign ministers of East Germany, West Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia be allowed to take a full part in the conference. The West said no, and made it stick.

But the Soviets can laugh at this. They accomplished what was no doubt their only purpose in making the demand they knew the West would reject:

To gain a little public opinion yardage for Moscow among the peoples of the two Germanys, Poland and Czechoslovakia by representing the Soviet Union as their champion and the West as the one who stifled them and refused to grant them equal status.

The whole rickety nature of this conference — at least so far — was exposed weeks ago when the American, British, French and West German foreign ministers, meeting in Paris, agreed on a "package plan" to offer the Soviets.

The Soviets had demanded basically two things: that the Western Big Three get their troops out of West Berlin and that they sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany, a Soviet satellite, thus giving it international recognition and through that tightening the Soviet grip on all the satellites.

This the West — on both counts — had already said it wouldn't do. Instead the West came up with the package plan which it knew the Soviets would not buy.

This called for various steps and stages that required the unification of the two Germanys, which the Soviets didn't want, plus elections, formation of a single German government, and, only after all that was done, Allied withdrawal from Berlin.

The Western ministers were so sure the Soviets wouldn't agree that they let the news leak out about their concern over what they might be able to propose once the Soviets had turned down the package plan.

The point was: While the Allies could agree on a plan they knew there was no chance of the Soviets accepting, what kind of plan, which the Soviets might accept, could they agree on? There was no sign after the Paris meeting that the Western allies could agree on the "fallback" plan.

And there was still no sign of agreement among them Monday.

There was a row among the four Western powers — before Monday's session with Gromyko began — on when and how to separate Berlin from the package plan.

West Germany and France were reported to want a tough negotiating attitude toward Gromyko while the United States and Britain were said to be willing to start talking about settling the Berlin dispute itself. So at last the two sides met again Monday.

The completely expected happened: For the West Secretary of State Christian A. Herter bluntly rejected the Soviet demands; Gromyko grimly turned down the Western package. Now — maybe and if they're ever going to do it — the two sides will begin some serious talking and stop the shadow-boxing.

To statesmen all this maneuvering may look like the way to carry on high diplomacy. To many people of the world it may look like kid stuff.

Challenge To U.S.

By David Lawrence

Geneva Conference, Not Summit Is Key Test

GENEVA

Why should the Soviets agree to anything at Geneva? They have already been told officially that time means nothing—that there will be a series of foreign ministers conferences and summit meetings anyhow over a period of years. This gives the impression that the Western Allies feel no sense of urgency and it fits in, of course, with the Soviet idea that, as time goes on, the peoples of the captive countries will become discouraged and accept Communistic enslavement as their permanent lot.

David Lawrence

Out of the entire "package" plan, Nikita Khrushchev, with a shrewd facility or determining the weakness in his adversary's proposals, grabs eagerly the suggestion that there should be an East German and West German conference committee that could talk for the next several years about German reunification.

The Soviet chief says, indeed, that the representation must be equal and cavalierly dismisses the fact that East Germany has much the smaller population of the two Germanies. But he sees the chance for a prolonged palaver which can las. for 10 years—as did the negotiations over Austria.

THE FORMULA is defended by Moscow as manifesting a continuous willingness to negotiate. It comes also within the definition of flexibility which the faint-hearted in the West have been saying John Foster Dulles lacked.

What does a continuous hassle on the status of East and West Germany really means? As for the problem of West Berlin, this would be disposed of by Moscow in what is called an "interim solution," which means that it will hang like a sword of Damocles over the heads of the West and threaten them with a crisis every time they show a bit of firmness on the reunification problem.

It means something more. Behind the Iron Curtain, in the satellite countries, are many millions of freedom-loving people who yearn for liberation. Will the Western Allies forsake them? It would seem to look that way if the British suggestion for a series of conferences by foreign ministers and lots of summit meetings in the next several years is to furnish the Soviets an easy way to avoid any change in the status of eastern and central Europe.

What is the alternative? Is it only war? Too many people have become convinced that military force alone is the instrument by which international disputes can be solved.

It is true that there must be a readiness to retaliate if attacked and that adequate armament is essential but actually moral force is a far more powerful weapon. Eventually it can arouse all the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to assert themselves. In the present situation it calls for worldwide cries of indignation over the Soviet attitude toward a homogeneous people in the two Germanies who are given no hope of unity except under conditions dictated by the Communist autarchy. This means isolation and insecurity for the German people, if not Communist domination of them.

THE EVIDENCE is clear. Tens of thousands of East Germans are fleeing every week from under the control of the Communists. There is a similar exodus from other countries behind the Iron Curtain. This flight from tyranny is significant.

Why, moreover, is there such silence, if not indifference, throughout the world with respect to the plight of the 63,000 human beings forcibly removed from Hungary in 1956 by Soviet troops and never brought back to their homeland?

Among them are 5,000 skilled workers taken from big industrial plants who were then shipped to China to work as slaves under the Communists there.

The deported Hungarian boys and girls — many of whom were between the ages of 14 and 18—are still in Siberian prison camps. In the past few days there have been rumors that, when they reach the age of 18, they are executed. This has been denied by the Soviets but they never tell why they are keeping the Hungarians in bondage.

The lesson is plain. The Soviets feel they own all the satellite countries—Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania as well as East Germany. They want to incorporate West Germany in their bloc of states.

The first move is to offer a "peace treaty" and recognize East Germany as a supposedly sovereign country. But the real plan is to get the Allied troops away from Berlin and the vicinity of East Germany so that the process of infiltrating and intimidating West Germany can go on.

THE SOVIET CHIEF, in his speech over the weekend, rejected all proposals for reduction of armament in central Europe made by the West. His demand is that the military bases on the continent be abandoned by the West, that NATO be dismantled, and that American forces be sent back to the United States. This comes just after the hopes of a credulous world were raised that a "serious negotiation" might be forthcoming this month in Geneva at this Foreign Ministers Conference or at a summit meeting later.

What Khrushchev really is demanding is the unconditional surrender of the West. He thinks the Western Allies are divided and that their differences can be exploited. He is convinced that, in the final analysis, they are so scared of a nuclear war that they can be easily browbeaten into acceptance of Moscow's demands.

He is counting on a flabby public opinion in Britain as well as in America to accept peace at any price as preferable to war.

He thinks the American people will soon forget the millions of people behind the Iron Curtain.

Where will the leadership come from that speaks firmly and is willing to risk war to avoid war? For repeated appeasements only bring on the same kind of situations out of which world wars have come in the past.

If the American people, surveying the skimpy results at Geneva, acquiesce to a summit meeting, it can prove the biggest setback to the cause of freedom since the brave Hungarians battled for freedom three years ago only to be forsaken.

So it is the Geneva Conference—not the summit meeting—which presents the real challenge now to the leadership of the United States in world affairs.

Reunionmanship

By Truman Twill

Thousands who are drawn back to school reunions by curiosity, nostalgia and inability to think of an excuse to stay away will be going throught he agony of the old grad for the next few weeks.

Sometimes they will not be able to put any name to the face at all and vice versa.

This sort of thing is not always as bad as it threatens to be, but it can be mighty grisly.

As one who has been put back and forth through this wringer of embarrassment every five years since THE DAY, plus one reunion extra, I have developed some gambits herewith outlined for the benefit of reunionists.

The first element in reunionmanship is to seize the initiative if possible.

At the sight of a suspected female classmate who used to be quite a dish but now is a slob do not run for cover, but wheel and bear down on her, instead.

Throw your arms around her and give her a robust bussing on the mouth. If you remember her, the name will come to you as a result of this shock treatment. If it's mistaken identity, that will come out soon enough too.

And if she can't remember who you are, it will be a laugh on her. In any event, take command of the situation.

In the case of males who get the jump bear down before you can get into counter-motion, a shrewd gambit is the wheel-squeal-and-feel combination. Wheel suddenly, squeal with recognition and lay hands on the guy. Flip open his coat and take a quick peek at the label. If he's anyone worth remembering, his name may be in there too.

If taken by surprise, freeze the situation by saying aloffly, "Are you sure you have the right man? I don't recall anyone who looked like you."

This will force the accoster to make a clean breast of his identity. It will give you a chance to gather your wits and to remember what he looked like in the old days. It will put him on the defensive.

In short, it will be a lever to pry loose a sticky situation, which is what every reunion turns into at one time or another.

Or best of all, announce in a loud voice when approaching an individual or group, "I am Tommy Tucker, class of you know which. I married Susie Sucker, the girl who used to be a little overweight at the time. You should see her now. She is not with me today. We have three children, and I am steadily employed. Roger?"

Extreme Nervousness In Poplarville

For many days there has been a state of nervous tension in Poplarville, Miss. The cause is the presence of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Its agents are in town to investigate the lynching of Mark Charles Parker, a Negro. They are not willing to settle for the cursory look-see that is customary after Negroes have been lynched in the Deep South.

They are doing the thorough job of investigation that has been their trademark for half a generation — the thorough kind of job that solved the Boston Brinks robbery, kept the Nazis at bay in World War II and makes U.S. Communists wonder if it's worth the effort to plot the overthrow of the United States.

All this is being done in a state and in a town whose citizens do not regard the lynching of Negroes as much of a crime — more like second-degree manslaughter than anyanything else. It is being done at a time when millions of enraged Southerners are doing everything but take down the rifles over the mantlepiece to show their contempt and hatred for a federal government that now is in its fifth year of effort to give Negroes first-class citizenship in every state of the Union —not just in Hawaii.

The federal government is mindful of the fact the United States either must prove to a world in which colored people are the majority that race hatred is on the defensive here, or face the consequences of prejudice against whites by hundreds of millions of non-whites. A lynching in a place called Poplarville in the state of Mississippi today is a federal problem, not a local incident.

At least one Poplarville resident is so nervous about the FBI and its persistent questioning that a cerebral hemorrhage is being blamed on its presence. Other residents also are in a state of agitation. If it helps them any to know they have company, millions of Americans elsewhere are in a state of nervous tension about Poplarville. If it cannot be brought in line with mid-20th-century thought — it and all the other Poplarville — the United States is in bigger trouble than its worry warts think it's in.

Freedom Works In Both Directions

Stanley Yankus, the Michigan farmer who decided America wasn't worth the mistakes it was making with wheat quotas is off to Australia with his family.

All of us wish him well. We wish his wife and children well. And on the off chance they may be wanting to come back we'll plug away back home to make things better.

The wheat quotas are wrong-headed.

No one likes them but a coterie of wheat-state politicians and enough of their constituents to keep the politicians in the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate.

This, too, is representative democracy, which can make wrong-headedness just as legal as right-headedness. And in this instance, the wrong-headedness has been compounded and complicated by confusion.

The fact is that no one knows what to do about farmers in our industrialized economy. They are the only major economic group left without collective bargaining power to fight for a big enough share of the national income to keep them farming. They have been going into industry by the millions, but the ones still farming are doing such a good job they are creating price-shattering surpluses. The wheat quotas and the wheat subsidy are the only solution so far to what may prove to be an insoluble problem.

In Australia, farmer Yankus and his family will learn about new problems. Everybody hopes Australia comes up to their expectations; many Australians would like to come here. They may find it hard to understand why the Yankuses came there, instead. It's all under the heading of "Freedom."

Freedom works both ways. People are free to do one thing or another. The Yankuses are of Lithuanian origin. Lithuanians, of course, are not free to come here any more. Americans, for the post part, are free to go anywhere they like. Also to come back if they change their minds and decide that America is worth the mistakes it is making, because a mistake always can be corrected.

Deadline For The Big U.S. Giveaway

It will be unfortunate if Sen. Mansfield's proposal for halting outright grants to foreign countries within three years is misinterpreted as a move to halt all foreign aid.

The assistant leader of the Senate's Democratic majority is not proposing that the United States pull the string on governments that need help. He is proposing that the U.S. program of giving help without any commitment to collect something in return has gone as far as it can go and should be discontinued before it sets off a public reaction "so strong it will swamp the entire undertaking."

The rest of the undertaking would continue to be important. If the Soviet Union steps up its own foreign-aid program, foreign aid could turn into the battleground of the key clash of the cold war.

Barring the possibility of a shooting war, the struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union will be in trade. It will be a contest for power through business influence.

The Soviet Union has paid the ultimate tribute to the success of the U.S. foreign-aid program by copying it. It is doing everything in its considerable power to spread its influence by exports of commodities, technical know-how and credit.

It never was more important for the United States to understand the importance of its own foreign-aid efforts — not the efforts that are being criticized as wasteful and even silly but the efforts that have kept other nations from being isolated against U.S. products, influence and political understanding.

Sen. Mansfield is proposing only that foreign aid be tightened up and put on a businesslike basis — loans, not gifts.

It will be too bad if his criticism of the bad part of foreign aid is interpreted as criticism of the good part, too. He is not criticizing the principle, only the practice of giving away money will-nilly. The principle is to underwrite with U.S. wealth the cost of freedom.

Salute To The BPW

This month, the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club is observing its 20th anniversary.

The organization received its charter May 16, 1939, and had 37 members. Today there are 117 on the roster.

The BPW has a lengthy and impressive record of public service. A recent survey conducted by its Public Affairs Committee disclosed that nearly 6,000 hours were devoted by members during the last year alone to what might be called extra-curricular civic activities.

The Community Fund, Cancer Society, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Cerebral Palsy, Civic Music, Girl Scouts, Heart Fund, Salvation Army, Civilian Defense were among the causes that benefited from the volunteer hours contributed by members of the BPW.

It is good to learn, too, that church work, with a total of 1,833 hours, highlighted the efforts of these busy career women.

The above is a recap of but one year's service. Add the activities of 19 previous years and you have a clear idea of why a salute is in order for the BPW. It is an organization of which any community would be justly proud.

Hoffa Butters Up The Congressmen

By Victor Riesel

In a series of unreported, private, invitation breakfasts, Jimmy Hoffa's international musclehood of Teamsters has been scrambling eggs, buttering up scores of congressmen and making hash of reformers efforts to push through an anti-racketeering law this session.

Victor Riesel

Recent exposures of mob infiltration into the Teamsters Union and sharp public criticism of Hoffa have not kept important members of the House of Representatives from these breakfasts in Washington's Congressional Hotel near the Capitol.

Typical is the most recent morning bread-breaking. At the invitation of Hofffa and his closest aides, at least 12 New York congresssmen fraternized, spoke and listened to spokesmen for a large delegation of New York Teamster leaders last Tuesday. The labor men were led by Hoffa's intimate friend, Teamster Vice President John O'Rourke.

SOME PEOPLE have difficulty getting congressmen up in the morning. But not the Teamsters. The representatives were not only awake but voluble. One was none other than Brooklyn's Emanuel Celler. He heads the powerful House Judiciary Committee which helps make the laws of the land. There he was in front of a grapefruit saying that he agrees with the Teamsters that there are bad features in the bill passed on to the House by the Senate.

For 15 minutes Rep. Celler said that there should not be a ban on what is sometimes referred to as "blackmail picketing." He thinks that the Kennedy Bill gives too much power to the U.S. secretary of labor. The reform bill hands the Cabinet member the power of subpena — the right to look at the books of unions he believes have filed false data. Mr. Celler said that this puts the government far too far into union affairs.

The impression his listeners got was that he would probably vote against the bill. This session pretty much runs the course for previous breakfasts. Not too long ago, the California Teamsters asked their congressional delegation to split toast with them.

The California solons arrived. The Teamsters were not ready. The members of the Congress of the U.S., including Rep. James Roosevelt, waited patiently for 20 minutes.

THIS IS PART of Hoffa's private kampf against the first anti-racketeering bill in years which has had any chance of passing. About once a week Hoffa calls in Teamster officials from a particular state. Many of these officers have been under heavy criticism by the McClellan committee.

They gather in the Teamster headquarters of an evening. There they are briefed by Hoffa's counsel. They are told that the reform bill is bad and means jail and that no union can be run under its restrictions.

The next morning the same group of men meets at breakfast in the Congressional Hotel with the legislators from their home state. At the coffee-sipping, the Teamster propaganda drive shifts into different gear. Usually their lobbyist, Sam Zagri of St. Louis, talks to the congressmen for about 40 minutes. He says that the Teamsters are against corruption. They want a law, but . . .

Then the congressmen reply. Most of them are friendly.

Word seeping out of these early-bird briefings reveals that not once has a congressman taken the breakfast opportunity to criticize Hoffa or his colleagues. And visitors have been on a first name basis — and bipartisan.

Until this report, none of the congressmen has issued a statement. Nor has any been deterred by the fact that no senator has agreed to sit in on the talks, which Hoffa will continue to call, state by state, right up to the minute the House votes.

So, Perle Mesta's social set had better look to it. After all, Hoffa is the host with the most.

A Sorry Spectacle

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Now—maybe—the foreign ministers at Geneva will cut out the propaganda rigmarole and get down to cases. Reports from there say they may go into secret session. It's about the only way they will get anything done.

So far, from the standpoint of serious negotiations, this meeting of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union has been a sorry spectacle. Each side has been making proposals it knew beforehand the other would not accept. And neither did.

The whole intention of each side up till now seems to have been to get the maximum publicity — meaning propaganda — for its proposals before the other had a chance to say no. They let it be known what they'd say before they ever sat down at the conference table to say it.

It's a tossup on who's ahead on propaganda. If there's any edge, the Soviets have it.

The West can crow that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko lost on his demand that the foreign ministers of East Germany, West Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia be allowed to take a full part in the conference. The West said no, and made it stick.

But the Soviets can laugh at this. They accomplished what was no doubt their only purpose in making the demand they knew the West would reject:

To gain a little public opinion yardage for Moscow among the peoples of the two Germanys, Poland and Czechoslovakia by representing the Soviet Union as their champion and the West as the one who stifled them and refused to grant them equal status.

The whole rickety nature of this conference — at least so far — was exposed weeks ago when the American, British, French and West German foreign ministers, meeting in Paris, agreed on a "package plan" to offer the Soviets.

The Soviets had demanded basically two things: that the Western Big Three get their troops out of West Berlin and that they sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany, a Soviet satellite, thus giving it international recognition and through that tightening the Soviet grip on all the satellites.

This the West — on both counts — had already said it wouldn't do. Instead the West came up with the package plan which it knew the Soviets would not buy.

This called for various steps and stages that required the unification of the two Germanys, which the Soviets didn't want, plus elections, formation of a single German government, and, only after all that was done, Allied withdrawal from Berlin.

The Western ministers were so sure the Soviets wouldn't agree that they let the news leak out about their concern over what they might be able to propose once the Soviets had turned down the package plan.

The point was: While the Allies could agree on a plan they knew there was no chance of the Soviets accepting, what kind of plan, which the Soviets might accept, could they agree on? There was no sign after the Paris meeting that the Western allies could agree on the "fallback" plan.

And there was still no sign of agreement among them Monday.

There was a row among the four Western powers — before Monday's session with Gromyko began — on when and how to separate Berlin from the package plan.

West Germany and France were reported to want a tough negotiating attitude toward Gromyko while the United States and Britain were said to be willing to start talking about settling the Berlin dispute itself. So at last the two sides met again Monday.

The completely expected happened: For the West Secretary of State Christian A. Herter bluntly rejected the Soviet demands; Gromyko grimly turned down the Western package. Now — maybe and if they're ever going to do it — the two sides will begin some serious talking and stop the shadow-boxing.

To statesmen all this maneuvering may look like the way to carry on high diplomacy. To many people of the world it may look like kid stuff.

Challenge To U.S.

By David Lawrence

GENEVA

Why should the Soviets agree to anything at Geneva? They have already been told officially that time means nothing—that there will be a series of foreign ministers conferences and summit meetings anyhow over a period of years. This gives the impression that the Western Allies feel no sense of urgency and it fits in, of course, with the Soviet idea that, as time goes on, the peoples of the captive countries will become discouraged and accept Communistic enslavement as their permanent lot.

David Lawrence

Out of the entire "package" plan, Nikita Khrushchev, with a shrewd facility or determining the weakness in his adversary's proposals, grabs eagerly the suggestion that there should be an East German and West German conference committee that could talk for the next several years about German reunification.

The Soviet chief says, indeed, that the representation must be equal and cavalierly dismisses the fact that East Germany has much the smaller population of the two Germanies. But he sees the chance for a prolonged palaver which can las. for 10 years—as did the negotiations over Austria.

THE FORMULA is defended by Moscow as manifesting a continuous willingness to negotiate. It comes also within the definition of flexibility which the faint-hearted in the West have been saying John Foster Dulles lacked.

What does a continuous hassle on the status of East and West Germany really means? As for the problem of West Berlin, this would be disposed of by Moscow in what is called an "interim solution," which means that it will hang like a sword of Damocles over the heads of the West and threaten them with a crisis every time they show a bit of firmness on the reunification problem.

It means something more. Behind the Iron Curtain, in the satellite countries, are many millions of freedom-loving people who yearn for liberation. Will the Western Allies forsake them? It would seem to look that way if the British suggestion for a series of conferences by foreign ministers and lots of summit meetings in the next several years is to furnish the Soviets an easy way to avoid any change in the status of eastern and central Europe.

What is the alternative? Is it only war? Too many people have become convinced that military force alone is the instrument by which international disputes can be solved.

It is true that there must be a readiness to retaliate if attacked and that adequate armament is essential but actually moral force is a far more powerful weapon. Eventually it can arouse all the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to assert themselves. In the present situation it calls for worldwide cries of indignation over the Soviet attitude toward a homogeneous people in the two Germanies who are given no hope of unity except under conditions dictated by the Communist autarchy. This means isolation and insecurity for the German people, if not Communist domination of them.

THE EVIDENCE is clear. Tens of thousands of East Germans are fleeing every week from under the control of the Communists. There is a similar exodus from other countries behind the Iron Curtain. This flight from tyranny is significant.

Why, moreover, is there such silence, if not indifference, throughout the world with respect to the plight of the 63,000 human beings forcibly removed from Hungary in 1956 by Soviet troops and never brought back to their homeland?

Among them are 5,000 skilled workers taken from big industrial plants who were then shipped to China to work as slaves under the Communists there.

The deported Hungarian boys and girls — many of whom were between the ages of 14 and 18—are still in Siberian prison camps. In the past few days there have been rumors that, when they reach the age of 18, they are executed. This has been denied by the Soviets but they never tell why they are keeping the Hungarians in bondage.

The lesson is plain. The Soviets feel they own all the satellite countries—Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania as well as East Germany. They want to incorporate West Germany in their bloc of states.

The first move is to offer a "peace treaty" and recognize East Germany as a supposedly sovereign country. But the real plan is to get the Allied troops away from Berlin and the vicinity of East Germany so that the process of infiltrating and intimidating West Germany can go on.

THE SOVIET CHIEF, in his speech over the weekend, rejected all proposals for reduction of armament in central Europe made by the West. His demand is that the military bases on the continent be abandoned by the West, that NATO be dismantled, and that American forces be sent back to the United States. This comes just after the hopes of a credulous world were raised that a "serious negotiation" might be forthcoming this month in Geneva at this Foreign Ministers Conference or at a summit meeting later.

What Khrushchev really is demanding is the unconditional surrender of the West. He thinks the Western Allies are divided and that their differences can be exploited. He is convinced that, in the final analysis, they are so scared of a nuclear war that they can be easily browbeaten into acceptance of Moscow's demands.

He is counting on a flabby public opinion in Britain as well as in America to accept peace at any price as preferable to war.

He thinks the American people will soon forget the millions of people behind the Iron Curtain.

Where will the leadership come from that speaks firmly and is willing to risk war to avoid war? For repeated appeasements only bring on the same kind of situations out of which world wars have come in the past.

If the American people, surveying the skimpy results at Geneva, acquiesce to a summit meeting, it can prove the biggest setback to the cause of freedom since the brave Hungarians battled for freedom three years ago only to be forsaken.

So it is the Geneva Conference—not the summit meeting—which presents the real challenge now to the leadership of the United States in world affairs.

Reunionmanship

By Truman Twill

Thousands who are drawn back to school reunions by curiosity, nostalgia and inability to think of an excuse to stay away will be going throught he agony of the old grad for the next few weeks.

Sometimes they will not be able to put any name to the face at all and vice versa.

This sort of thing is not always as bad as it threatens to be, but it can be mighty grisly.

As one who has been put back and forth through this wringer of embarrassment every five years since THE DAY, plus one reunion extra, I have developed some gambits herewith outlined for the benefit of reunionists.

The first element in reunionmanship is to seize the initiative if possible.

At the sight of a suspected female classmate who used to be quite a dish but now is a slob do not run for cover, but wheel and bear down on her, instead.

Throw your arms around her and give her a robust bussing on the mouth. If you remember her, the name will come to you as a result of this shock treatment. If it's mistaken identity, that will come out soon enough too.

And if she can't remember who you are, it will be a laugh on her. In any event, take command of the situation.

In the case of males who get the jump bear down before you can get into counter-motion, a shrewd gambit is the wheel-squeal-and-feel combination. Wheel suddenly, squeal with recognition and lay hands on the guy. Flip open his coat and take a quick peek at the label. If he's anyone worth remembering, his name may be in there too.

If taken by surprise, freeze the situation by saying aloffly, "Are you sure you have the right man? I don't recall anyone who looked like you."

This will force the accoster to make a clean breast of his identity. It will give you a chance to gather your wits and to remember what he looked like in the old days. It will put him on the defensive.

In short, it will be a lever to pry loose a sticky situation, which is what every reunion turns into at one time or another.

Or best of all, announce in a loud voice when approaching an individual or group, "I am Tommy Tucker, class of you know which. I married Susie Sucker, the girl who used to be a little overweight at the time. You should see her now. She is not with me today. We have three children, and I am steadily employed. Roger?"

Home's Water Sources O.K.

Water sources at the Hancock County Children's Home near Pughtown have been inspected and found satisfactory, the Board of Trustees was told at a meeting Monday night in New Cumberland.

Cyrus Spear, executive secretary, said water facilities of the home and farm on Route 2 were inspected May 1 by Glen Montgomery, county sanitarian.

The farm's cattle stock has been tested for Bang's disease and tuberculosis by federal health agents and the animals were found free of the diseases, the board learned in a report.

Fire extinguishers inspected also were found in satisfactory condition by Elmer Bailey, New Cumberland fire chief. The board is making plans to plant a row of evergreens in front of the home now housing 32 children.

Dave N. Thomas of Weirton, president, presided. All members were present with the exception of Dave Frew. The next meeting will be June 15 at 7:30 in the Courthouse.

Industry

the stage for the question-and-answer period by offering what he called a realistic appraisal of the industrial development picture in the area.

Stressing the keen competition that exists for new plants throughout the nation, the Ohio Power executive warned against "trodding the beaten track" and called instead for "new methods and new avenues."

He declared that the "active, alert participation of every faction of community life is needed to attract industry."

"Your leaders and basic atmosphere must sell a community," the speaker continued, in pointing out that there are not enough industries to go around.

Turning to what the East Liverpool side of the Ohio River has to offer in the way of land, Wolf cited the lack "of one single desirable site of 25 acres or more" and suggested that any planning program not overlook the possibility of East Liverpool becoming a marketing center. "You are limited in the volume of prospects that can be attracted industrial-wise," he commented.

Reminding of federal funds available under Urban Renewal, Wolf offered the idea that some sections of the river front could be cleared and reserved for future industry, with the residential section gradually moving back more into the hill sections.

He commended the recent countywide planning meeting at Columbiana and declared that such programs call for a united effort. "East Liverpool and Chester can't consider themselves an island," he continued, and said that their development hopes are interwoven with the other immediate areas.

"Local government can't provide adequate facilities if sufficient capital is lacking to meet expansion," Wolf continued, and explained that about the only recourse to such capital is through a local income tax, which he called one of the most equitable of fund-raising efforts.

In answer to charges that creep up every now and then, the speaker stated: "I would like to explode a myth — that existing industry doesn't want new industry and that the Chamber of Commerce is controlled and is trying to keep out new industry."

He emphasized that the contrary is true.

These were some of the highlights of the panel discussion which followed:

Koppers is still very much interested in the Arroyo area, but has no definite plans to offer at this time.

The area is unique in one respect in that it has rail, water and highway facilities to offer.

Hillside land may be as valuable in certain instances as level acreage.

The Upper Ohio Valley Development Council is constantly on the alert for prospects, with three principal ones receiving major attention at present. Existing industries and people in the area were urged to supply possible leads in this direction.

Major expansion of established industry ranks in importance along with new industry.

Three birds can be killed with one stone — in planning highways, plan at the same time to eliminate slum districts and create industrial sites in their place.

T. Fred Edwards, Chamber president, presided during the regular meeting, with Alvin T. Babb of the Chamber Industrial Development Committee in charge of the panel discussion.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Motorman Cited In Injury To 125 In 'El' Collision

CHICAGO (AP)—The failure of a veteran motorman to apply his brakes soon enough was the major cause of the crash of two crowded elevated trains during the rush-hour Monday morning, says a Chicago Transit Authority spokesman.

About 125 persons were taken to hospitals after one jammed train plowed into the rear of another stalled because of a tie-up farther down the line. About 800 persons were passengers in the two Loop-bound six-car trains.

Two were injured seriously and 19 were hospitalized overnight.

Paris declined, on the advice of attorneys, to comment on Poland's statement. He suffered an ankle injury in the wreck.

Health Board Post Unfilled

LISBON — One application for the position of Columbiana County sanitarian was discussed by the Columbiana County Board of Health at a meeting Monday night.

No action was taken but the applicant will be asked to meet with the board at a special meeting to be set up by Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

The resignation of Tom Boyce was read but no action was taken by the three board members present, Dr. T. A. King, Mrs. Roy Archibald and Glen Hawkins.

A lengthy discussion was held on progress of the restaurant inspections for this year and Dr. Palmer said he believes approximately a third of the county restaurants have been visited.

Board members indicated they believed the program should be further along but the commissioners explained that he had to take the sanitarian off his inspection work to handle complaints, causing delay in the restaurant phase.

Norman Weingart of the Ohio Pump Co. of Salem and Gordon Allen, representative of sewage treatment system manufactured by the Yeoman Bros. of Melrose Park, Ill., discussed their cavitette —a small sewage disposal plant for home, schools, restaurants or drive-in theater, and asked if the county board would approve such installations. The board will seek confirmation that the State Health Board authorizes their use, as the representatives claimed. The county board thus probably will do likewise.

Dr. Palmer also discussed some of the complaints he received during the month. The next meeting will be June 15.

Convicted Murderer Nabbed After Escape

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A convicted murderer was recaptured in a Nashville tavern Monday less than six hours after he escaped from the penitentiary.

"Sure would like another. There's a long dry spell ahead."

"Why not?" said Patterson.

Reilly downed a second beer.

"It's on the house," the bartender said.

value upon which rates are based. The replacement formula would give equal weight to original net investment and to an up-to-date appraisal.

House approval of DiSalle's big tax program began to bounce back Monday. A joint Senate-House conference committee appeared to be in the offing on a bill, approved by both houses, to increase the barrel tax on 3.2 beer from $1.50 to $2.50.

The House refused to accept a Senate amendment to the beer-tax bill to exempt from the tax those beer stocks on hand when the tax becomes effective. The Senate insisted on its amendment and the conference committee's creation is inevitable.

The Senate virtually completed legislative action on a House-approved bill to raise the maximum permissible income of residents of metropolitan housing developments, giving special consideration to the aged and war veterans. The top permitted income was raised from $2,400 to $3,000 a year, plus $200 each for dependants.

DiSalle appeared before a Senate Democratic caucus to make a personal plea for his proposal to ditch the stamp receipt system in collection of the state's sales tax.

But, despite more than an hour before the committee, there were indications DiSalle had not swayed enough votes to insure Senate approval for their elimination.

After the caucus, which sent the Senate into an evening session, Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas) conceded: "It's still touch and go." But, King added, there was no nose count on the issue.

The Senate passed unanimously and sent to the House a bill to provide for compulsory registration of habitual sex offenders with their local police authorities.

The purpose is to give police a chance to keep their fingers on persons with two or more offenses such as indecent exposure, incest or sodomy. Failure to register, for the first offense, would be punishable by a $100 fine and six months in jail. Further offenses would mean one to five years in prison.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Place food vending machines under the food service licensing law.

Require the state highway director to be a professional engineer experienced in highway construction.

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee recommended a proposed constitutional amendment to lower the minimum age for voting in Ohio from 21 to 18.

The Senate agreed with a House amendment and completed legislative action on a bill to extend to radio and television broadcasters the same immunity from disclosing news sources as now is enjoyed by newspaper and news service reporters. The bill probably will reach DiSalle for signature late this week. The House amendment simply requires broadcasters to keep scripts, tape recording and other news documents for six months after their broadcast.

At a meeting of the club Monday night at Simoni's home, he showed pictures of the burial site. Harry Cline displayed several frames of pottery fragments and bone fragments of a deer.

Thompson and Woodrow displayed finds made in a surface collection along the Ohio River bottom. Dawson, president, reported on news from other societies in the district.

A discussion was held on the Yellow Creek village site and after a study of the artifacts, it was determined that the camp was extensively occupied from 2500 B. C. to 1600 A. D. The chief source of food for the Indians apparently was shellfish and deer. They also ate some land turtles and small animals.

Guests were Dick Mason and John Fitch of Lisbon and William McCombs of Smiths Ferry.

The next meeting will be June 1 with William Patterson of Persimmon Ln.

Senator Will Speak Before Civic Group

Sen. John C. Miller of Aliquippa has accepted an invitation to speak at the May 28 meeting of the South Beaver County Civic Association in the Hookstown Grange Hall.

The senator plans to discuss his sponsorship of Senate Bills 44 and 45, which would exempt authorities from registration and title fees as well as the liquid fuel tax for motor vehicles.

Home's Water Sources O.K.

Water sources at the Hancock County Children's Home near Pughtown have been inspected and found satisfactory, the Board of Trustees was told at a meeting Monday night in New Cumberland.

Cyrus Spear, executive secretary, said water facilities of the home and farm on Route 2 were inspected May 1 by Glen Montgomery, county sanitarian.

The farm's cattle stock has been tested for Bang's disease and tuberculosis by federal health agents and the animals were found free of the diseases, the board learned in a report.

Fire extinguishers inspected also were found in satisfactory condition by Elmer Bailey, New Cumberland fire chief. The board is making plans to plant a row of evergreens in front of the home now housing 32 children.

Dave N. Thomas of Weirton, president, presided. All members were present with the exception of Dave Frew. The next meeting will be June 15 at 7:30 in the Courthouse.

The first settlement of Boston was by Puritans headed by John Winthrop in 1630.

the stage for the question-and-answer period by offering what he called a realistic appraisal of the industrial development picture in the area.

Stressing the keen competition that exists for new plants throughout the nation, the Ohio Power executive warned against "trodding the beaten track" and called instead for "new methods and new avenues."

He declared that the "active, alert participation of every faction of community life is needed to attract industry."

"Your leaders and basic atmosphere must sell a community," the speaker continued, in pointing out that there are not enough industries to go around.

Turning to what the East Liverpool side of the Ohio River has to offer in the way of land, Wolf cited the lack "of one single desirable site of 25 acres or more" and suggested that any planning program not overlook the possibility of East Liverpool becoming a marketing center. "You are limited in the volume of prospects that can be attracted industrial-wise," he commented.

Reminding of federal funds available under Urban Renewal, Wolf offered the idea that some sections of the river front could be cleared and reserved for future industry, with the residential section gradually moving back more into the hill sections.

He commended the recent countywide planning meeting at Columbiana and declared that such programs call for a united effort. "East Liverpool and Chester can't consider themselves an island," he continued, and said that their development hopes are interwoven with the other immediate areas.

"Local government can't provide adequate facilities if sufficient capital is lacking to meet expansion," Wolf continued, and explained that about the only recourse to such capital is through a local income tax, which he called one of the most equitable of fund-raising efforts.

In answer to charges that creep up every now and then, the speaker stated: "I would like to explode a myth — that existing industry doesn't want new industry and that the Chamber of Commerce is controlled and is trying to keep out new industry."

He emphasized that the contrary is true.

These were some of the highlights of the panel discussion which followed:

Koppers is still very much interested in the Arroyo area, but has no definite plans to offer at this time.

The area is unique in one respect in that it has rail, water and highway facilities to offer.

Hillside land may be as valuable in certain instances as level acreage.

The Upper Ohio Valley Development Council is constantly on the alert for prospects, with three principal ones receiving major attention at present. Existing industries and people in the area were urged to supply possible leads in this direction.

Major expansion of established industry ranks in importance along with new industry.

Three birds can be killed with one stone — in planning highways, plan at the same time to eliminate slum districts and create industrial sites in their place.

T. Fred Edwards, Chamber president, presided during the regular meeting, with Alvin T. Babb of the Chamber Industrial Development Committee in charge of the panel discussion.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Motorman Cited In Injury To 125 In 'El' Collision

CHICAGO (AP)—The failure of a veteran motorman to apply his brakes soon enough was the major cause of the crash of two crowded elevated trains during the rush-hour Monday morning, says a Chicago Transit Authority spokesman.

About 125 persons were taken to hospitals after one jammed train plowed into the rear of another stalled because of a tie-up farther down the line. About 800 persons were passengers in the two Loop-bound six-car trains.

Two were injured seriously and 19 were hospitalized overnight.

Paris declined, on the advice of attorneys, to comment on Poland's statement. He suffered an ankle injury in the wreck.

Health Board Post Unfilled

LISBON — One application for the position of Columbiana County sanitarian was discussed by the Columbiana County Board of Health at a meeting Monday night.

No action was taken but the applicant will be asked to meet with the board at a special meeting to be set up by Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Work To Cost $9,660

Contracts Given To Paint Schools

Contracts totaling $9,660 to paint 5 school buildings were awarded to 2 contractors Monday night by the Board of Education.

Rutter's Paint & Wallpaper Co. of Pennsylvania Ave. received contracts to paint Garfield with 2 coats on a bid of $3,263; Glenmoor with one coat for $671, and the covered steel walkway at Westgate with 2 coats for $916.

Hollis Logue of LaCroft was given a contract to paint the high school corridors with one coat and the auditorium with 2 coats for $2,955, and 2 coats in the classrooms and one coat in the corridors at Pleasant Heights for $1,855.

THE BOARD acted on the recommendation of its building committee headed by James Moss. His motion specified the paint must be that in the specifications or its equal.

The committee also secured bids for the interior painting of the Taft building and for the wood exteriors at Klondyke and Lincoln but Moss commented they were not included because the committee "cannot obligate itself any further at present."

The board ask bids for two coats on the various buildings and also sought bids for the labor cost only. However, after checking with paint suppliers, the committee decided it would not be able to effect any saving by purchasing the paint separately.

Rutter was the only bidder on the Garfield building, including an alternate of $1,900 for one coat.

At Pleasant Heights, Logue submitted only one bid while Rutter asked $1,426 for labor and material for one coat and $2,450 for 2 coats.

RUTTER WAS LOW for Glenmoor with his offer of $671 for labor and material while Logue bid $785 and Don Glenn of Glenmoor asked $1,125.

At the high school, where Logue won the contract on his bid of $2,955 for 2 coats in the auditorium and one coat in the corridors, Rutter asked $4,525 while Glenn bid $2,596 for one coat only. Christ Pallis asked $1,850 for one coat in the corridors only.

For painting the walkway at Westgate, Rutter was low with $916. Logue asked $1,015 for the same work and $775 for spraying while Pallis bid $1,100.

Although the spraying is cheaper, Supt. Ralph W. Betts said the present spray job "has not held up well" and pointed the specifications called for wire brushing of the steel and then brushing on two coats.

The board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Gladys Hyder as a junior high school teacher and Mrs. Manavelle Cooley as an elementary teacher. It formally approved the appointment of James Harris as high school teacher and varsity basketball coach.

IT ALSO APPROVED conditionally 241 seniors for graduation June 2, subject to final approval of the high school staff.

The board also approved a recommendation of Betts to establish 182 days rather than 180 as the divisor to be used in arriving at daily pay deductions for teachers when they are absent and not covered by sick leave.

Businessmen Cautioned Over Possible City Tax Confusion

The city income tax department today cautioned businessmen not to confuse notices for payment of taxes on their net profits with payments made on withholdings from employes.

The office has been swamped with calls from businesses after 207 delinquent notices were mailed Friday.

A spokesman explained the delinquent notices are to remind businessmen they have failed to file the final reports on the amount due on their net profits for the 6½ months the tax was in effect.

Shortly after the tax was enacted, all businesses were required to file estimates of their net profits along with estimates of the tax to be paid. The final reports were due on April 15, the same filing deadline for similar reports under the federal income tax.

Meanwhile, notices warning some 2,000 individuals, whose income was not subject to withholding, that they have not filed final reports are being prepared for mailing.

The delinquent notices will go into the mails late this week or early next week, the spokesman said.

The individuals failed to file the required reports on their income, showing whether any tax is due or whether they are entitled to a refund.

Those whose entire income was subject to withholding are not required to file reports, the spokesman explained.

The tax was repealed by an initiative ordinance at the November general election. The tax, fixed at 80 cents on each $100 of income, was effective from May 1 through Nov. 12.

Contracts Given To Paint Schools

Contracts totaling $9,660 to paint 5 school buildings were awarded to 2 contractors Monday night by the Board of Education.

Hollis Logue of LaCroft was given a contract to paint the high school corridors with one coat and the auditorium with 2 coats for $2,955, and 2 coats in the classrooms and one coat in the corridors at Pleasant Heights for $1,855.

THE BOARD acted on the recommendation of its building committee headed by James Moss. His motion specified the paint must be that in the specifications or its equal.

The Social -:- Notebook

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sparks have returned from a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and Canada and are residing in a newly-furnished apartment at 825½ Chester Ave. following their marriage May 8 at the First Free Methodist Church.

The bride is the former Miss Shirley Jean Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Holland, 625 Oak St., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Sparks, 327 Haywood St.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. A. Tomb, pastor, and the Rev. W. P. Jones of Butler, Pa., former pastor, before an altar setting of palms, ferns and seven-branched candelabra.

Mrs. Jane Tomb presented a quarter-hour of wedding music preceding the ceremony and Mrs. Barbara Stevens, co-worker of the bride, sang "Because", "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length dress highlighted with a front panel of buttons. The fitted bodice featured a lace collar and cuffs and she wore white mitts. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She observed all of the familiar traditions, including pearls borrowed from Miss Doris Diddle, a cousin, and carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Miss Vivian Holland was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink street-length dress with matching headband and lace mitts. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and white carnations tied with blue satin streamers.

William P. Sparks served as his brother's best man. Ushers were James Sparks and John Sparks, also brothers of the bridegroom.

The mothers of the principals were attired in Navy dresses with pink rosebud corsages. Mrs. Holland had pink accessories and Mrs. Sparks used white to accent her attire.

A reception for 100 was held at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tired cake, made by the bridegroom's mother, centered the lace-covered buffet table, on which red carnations and mums were the decorative note.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue suit with black patent accessories and her bridal orchids.

The bridegroom attended the high school and completed 3 years service in the Army, including 2½ years in Germany. He is employed at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

Lutheran Pastors Urged To Act On 'Serious Issues'

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Ohio pastors and congregations of the United Lutheran Church of America have been urged to step up political activity in behalf of issues "of serious Christian concern."

A resolution adopted by the 39th annual convention of the UAL's Ohio Synod specifically mentions state welfare programs as a target for activity.

The resolution, passed Monday on recommendation of the synod's Board of Social Missions, urges church members to familiarize themselves with issues, to "examine their own obligations to support improvements in the administration of justice and welfare which will secure greater consideration for the needs of all persons under the care of the state" and to inform legislators of their convictions.

The report mentioned Gov. Michael DiSalle's proposal to abolish capital punishment, "reports of deficient treatment of mentally ill" and recommendations by the Ohio Citizens Council for improvements in welfare services.

The convention continues through Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sparks have returned from a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and Canada and are residing in a newly-furnished apartment at 825½ Chester Ave. following their marriage May 8 at the First Free Methodist Church.

The bride is the former Miss Shirley Jean Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Holland, 625 Oak St., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Sparks, 327 Haywood St.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. A. Tomb, pastor, and the Rev. W. P. Jones of Butler, Pa., former pastor, before an altar setting of palms, ferns and seven-branched candelabra.

Mrs. Jane Tomb presented a quarter-hour of wedding music preceding the ceremony and Mrs. Barbara Stevens, co-worker of the bride, sang "Because", "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length dress highlighted with a front panel of buttons. The fitted bodice featured a lace collar and cuffs and she wore white mitts. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She observed all of the familiar traditions, including pearls borrowed from Miss Doris Diddle, a cousin, and carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Miss Vivian Holland was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink street-length dress with matching headband and lace mitts. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and white carnations tied with blue satin streamers.

William P. Sparks served as his brother's best man. Ushers were James Sparks and John Sparks, also brothers of the bridegroom.

The mothers of the principals were attired in Navy dresses with pink rosebud corsages. Mrs. Holland had pink accessories and Mrs. Sparks used white to accent her attire.

A reception for 100 was held at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tired cake, made by the bridegroom's mother, centered the lace-covered buffet table, on which red carnations and mums were the decorative note.

Aides were Mrs. Audrey Loos, Miss Doris Diddle and Mrs. Dale Diddle, cousins of the bride.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue suit with black patent accessories and her bridal orchids.

The bridegroom attended the high school and completed 3 years service in the Army, including 2½ years in Germany. He is employed at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

Lutheran Pastors Urged To Act On 'Serious Issues'

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Ohio pastors and congregations of the United Lutheran Church of America have been urged to step up political activity in behalf of issues "of serious Christian concern."

A resolution adopted by the 39th annual convention of the UAL's Ohio Synod specifically mentions state welfare programs as a target for activity.

The resolution, passed Monday on recommendation of the synod's Board of Social Missions, urges church members to familiarize themselves with issues, to "examine their own obligations to support improvements in the administration of justice and welfare which will secure greater consideration for the needs of all persons under the care of the state" and to inform legislators of their convictions.

The report mentioned Gov. Michael DiSalle's proposal to abolish capital punishment, "reports of deficient treatment of mentally ill" and recommendations by the Ohio Citizens Council for improvements in welfare services.

The convention continues through Wednesday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Mama passed away last week at 89. She was spry until three years ago when she had a bad fall. After that she became an invalid and had to be cared for like a baby.

In 1956 when she had her accident, the five of us decided on a cooperative plan. Martha, the only unmarried one, offered to take a leave of absence from her school teaching and care for Mama. We agreed to make up her salary.

Now that Mama is gone Martha has several months of leisure as she can't return to teaching until September. We think she should find work in a store or office and not sit around and collect money from us when Mama is in her grave.

Last night Martha said she was "very tired" and needed a rest. She's considering a trip to Europe on our money. A word from you on this slick maneuvering will be greatly appreciated.—THE FAMILY.

Dear Family: If Martha were a "slick maneuverer" she could have maneuvered something slicker than caring for an invalid night and day for three years. Do you have the slightest notion what it means to feed, bathe and watch over an aged person?

In my book Martha is entitled to "sit around and collect the money" until school reopens. And if she wants to go to Europe the rest of you ought to chip in and buy her a new set of luggage as a going-away present.

Out Of His Class

Dear Ann: I'm 15 and mixed up—but good. Last night I went out with a darling guy. I'd been hoping for six months he'd ask me. He doubled with his buddy who has a car. I never liked this buddy or his steady girl. They were mushing it up in the front seat and it made me uneasy.

I don't know if the front seat performance gave my date ideas or what. Anyway he went into a long story about how he never takes out a girl a second time if he doesn't get proof she likes him.

I asked what he considered "proof." He said, "A few honest kisses." I told him I didn't believe in kissing on a first date, no matter what.

He got mad and told his buddy to drive me straight home. Then he called me "Queen of the Flat Tires."

My closest girl friend says I made a mistake. She claims a friendly kiss wouldn't have killed me and now I've lost him forever. I have mixed feelings. Maybe I was too prissy. Help me, please.—FLAT TIRE QUEEN.

Dear Queen: High standards are a good device for screening out the third raters. A girl who can say NO and make it stick, builds character and trains herself for the major battles that lie ahead.

If this bird never calls again you aren't missing much. And his label "Queen of the Flat Tires" is a compliment. It means you are out of his reach—and out of his class.

Great Dreamer

Dear Ann: My Husband is forever telling me about the love affairs he had before he met me. Every time he relates a story he adds something and it gets better.

I don't care what he did; in fact I'm bored to death with his yarns. I'm beginning to think he's making up most of it.

Shall I tell him once and for all to stop boring me or let him go on and on? You'd think he'd be ashamed but instead he seems proud. Why is he like this? —POOR LISTENER.

Dear Listener: He's "like that" because he wants you to think he's a great lover and he's afraid his home performance isn't cutting the mustard. A little praise and ego massage from you will cut down on the boring oratory.

Confidentially

TO TOODIE: This man you think could be a "model husband" sounds fine if you plan to enter him in a beauty contest. But he doesn't sound like a WORKING model. Keep your job.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

Imagination Makes Slimming Course Easier

Without imagination and a quickened spirit, life would be dismally dull. Only you can change the "dullness to gold." Get the right picture. Idle day dreaming and imagination are by no means synonymous. Day dreaming is a form of mind-wandering which is akin to wishful thinking.

Ida Jean Kain

Most of us go through life looking for magic. Know that magic lies in our willingness to make the effort. When that extra ingredient of enthusiasm is added, the very effort becomes a sort of adventure.

NOW LET'S harness this exercise of the imagination to banishing the fat that binds muscle and bogs the spirit. It is true that reducing, to be successful, must be part of a new hope.

This is not a "cheer-up-things-are-bound-to-improve" philosophy. Far from it! To merely hope that anything will automatically improve as time goes along is actually just another form of day dreaming.

But when you are willing to act in a resolute way, you reap the results of your actions and it is then that your hope is renewed.

If you feel weighted down and bulky amidships instead of lithe and limber. . .turn on the music and stretch. Then move with the rhythm of the music. The secret of joy in exercise is rhythm, moving freely so that the motion is smooth and flowing.

Exercise makes for freedom of motion. It can be almost like dancing. Try it. To banish tension from arms in winde backward circles, rhythmically circling up, back, down and around.

Before the circle is quite completed, start circling with the other arm. Feel the lift! With the first upswing of the arm, pull slim through the middle. . .let the lift come clear from your toes.

THEN ARCH arms overhead, the way dancers do, again pull up with those bulky middle muscles, stretch through the middle, then bend to the side, first to one side, then to the other. As you become supple, you'll bend more freely. And you will feel buoyed up, not weighed down.

Exercise to be really worth the while should do as much for the spirit as it does for the muscles. Then it pulls you out of the rut, mentally and physically.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Cars Hinder Success In Schoolwork

Driving an automobile to high school and parking it there may make a boy consider himself a big shot. His stock with the girls may go up, though his marks may go down. According to a national magazine, a local high school study in Idaho revealed that not a single A student owned a car and only 15 per cent of the B students did. Yet 41 per cent of the C students and 71 per cent of the D students had cars. Of those who flunked, 83 per cent owned cars. High School Principal Edwin Anderson of Prosser, Washington, made a similar study and found similar relations between cars and school marks.

By Garry Meyers

Does this mean that having cars made students dull?

GIRLS WHO flock to boys on wheels hardly would admit they are picking out the "dumbest." Nor would parents who buy cars for their high school boys admit that these boys are in the lower brains-bracket.

You and I incline to suspect that having a car in high school diverts the student's efforts from hard work.

All these matters should be easily measured. Let some bright graduate student, needing a subject for a thesis, get busy and give us the facts.

Regardless of a success with books, owning a car or driving the family car to school can hardly further good school discipline and morale.

It's well known that high school youths are the most dangerous drivers.

EXCEPT IN a few cases, the high school boy has no more need of a car than of an elephant. He would get better training in character and citizenship, and cause his parents less worry, if he walked or went to school by bus.

Why the high schools allow students to park on the school grounds is hard to understand. It is harder still to understand why so many parents walk to work or market while their son drives the family car to school.

The increase of cars driven to school by youths is a symptom of the overindulgence of children by their parents which usually begins at the crib.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

31 Students Back In Classes Today Following Strike

The students left their classes at noon Monday protesting the dismissal of Gary Miller, 17, a senior. At 2:30 they returned following a lecture by Mayor Homer Braithwaite.

Miller was suspended from school for fighting with a teacher in a study hall Friday. Sunday, the Jefferson Local School District Board of Education rejected a plea from the boy's parents for a hearing.

School officials said Miller had been suspended earlier for truancy and reinstated on condition that he stay out of trouble for the remainder of the year.

Kline said a man dressed in constable's garb and driving a car with a canvas sign saying "constable", warned him at gunpoint to stay out of the county.

The state official said he has recently been investigating agricultural societies in Warren County, but said he doubts if the work is connected to the incident.

DiSalle Would Enjoy Debate About Capital Punishment

DiSalle told newsmen Monday "I would enjoy it, if I am free." He was invited to debate the issue at the American Bar Assn. meeting in July in Miami, Fla.

The governor said he is having a report made on charges by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People that there is segregation at the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home.

NAACP spokesmen told the governor and trustees of the home they especially objected to the "family unit" system used in keeping groups together in the dining room and in church. They said the system caused Negroes to feel that they were kept apart from other children.

In explaining the situation, DiSalle told newsmen:

"I told them I would send people down to examine the operation there . . . I also suggested rotation in the dining room so the children would get to know each other."

The governor said he has not decided whether to call a special primary election before November in southern Ohio's sixth congressional district, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of U.S. Rep. James G. Polk.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Mama passed away last week at 89. She was spry until three years ago when she had a bad fall. After that she became an invalid and had to be cared for like a baby.

In 1956 when she had her accident, the five of us decided on a cooperative plan. Martha, the only unmarried one, offered to take a leave of absence from her school teaching and care for Mama. We agreed to make up her salary.

Now that Mama is gone Martha has several months of leisure as she can't return to teaching until September. We think she should find work in a store or office and not sit around and collect money from us when Mama is in her grave.

Last night Martha said she was "very tired" and needed a rest. She's considering a trip to Europe on our money. A word from you on this slick maneuvering will be greatly appreciated.—THE FAMILY.

Dear Family: If Martha were a "slick maneuverer" she could have maneuvered something slicker than caring for an invalid night and day for three years. Do you have the slightest notion what it means to feed, bathe and watch over an aged person?

In my book Martha is entitled to "sit around and collect the money" until school reopens. And if she wants to go to Europe the rest of you ought to chip in and buy her a new set of luggage as a going-away present.

Out Of His Class

Dear Ann: I'm 15 and mixed up—but good. Last night I went out with a darling guy. I'd been hoping for six months he'd ask me. He doubled with his buddy who has a car. I never liked this buddy or his steady girl. They were mushing it up in the front seat and it made me uneasy.

I don't know if the front seat performance gave my date ideas or what. Anyway he went into a long story about how he never takes out a girl a second time if he doesn't get proof she likes him.

I asked what he considered "proof." He said, "A few honest kisses." I told him I didn't believe in kissing on a first date, no matter what.

He got mad and told his buddy to drive me straight home. Then he called me "Queen of the Flat Tires."

My closest girl friend says I made a mistake. She claims a friendly kiss wouldn't have killed me and now I've lost him forever. I have mixed feelings. Maybe I was too prissy. Help me, please.—FLAT TIRE QUEEN.

Dear Queen: High standards are a good device for screening out the third raters. A girl who can say NO and make it stick, builds character and trains herself for the major battles that lie ahead.

If this bird never calls again you aren't missing much. And his label "Queen of the Flat Tires" is a compliment. It means you are out of his reach—and out of his class.

Great Dreamer

Dear Ann: My Husband is forever telling me about the love affairs he had before he met me. Every time he relates a story he adds something and it gets better.

I don't care what he did; in fact I'm bored to death with his yarns. I'm beginning to think he's making up most of it.

Shall I tell him once and for all to stop boring me or let him go on and on? You'd think he'd be ashamed but instead he seems proud. Why is he like this? — POOR LISTENER.

Dear Listener: He's "like that" because he wants you to think he's a great lover and he's afraid his home performance isn't cutting the mustard. A little praise and ego massage from you will cut down on the boring oratory.

Confidentially

TO TOODIE: This man you think could be a "model husband" sounds fine if you plan to enter him in a beauty contest. But he doesn't sound like a WORKING model. Keep your job.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Imagination Makes Slimming Course Easier

Without imagination and a quickened spirit, life would be dismally dull. Only you can change the "dullness to gold." Get the right picture. Idle day dreaming and imagination are by no means synonymous. Day dreaming is a form of mind-wandering which is akin to wishful thinking.

Ida Jean Kain

Most of us go through life looking for magic. Know that magic lies in our willingness to make the effort. When that extra ingredient of enthusiasm is added, the very effort becomes a sort of adventure.

NOW LET'S harness this exercise of the imagination to banishing the fat that binds muscle and bogs the spirit. It is true that reducing, to be successful, must be part of a new hope.

This is not a "cheer-up-things-are-bound-to-improve" philosophy. Far from it! To merely hope that anything will automatically improve as time goes along is actually just another form of day dreaming.

But when you are willing to act in a resolute way, you reap the results of your actions and it is then that your hope is renewed.

If you feel weighted down and bulky amidships instead of lithe and limber. . .turn on the music and stretch. Then move with the rhythm of the music. The secret of joy in exercise is rhythm, moving freely so that the motion is smooth and flowing.

Exercise makes for freedom of motion. It can be almost like dancing. Try it. To banish tension from arms in winde backward circles, rhythmically circling up, back, down and around.

Before the circle is quite completed, start circling with the other arm. Feel the lift! With the first upswing of the arm, pull slim through the middle. . .let the lift come clear from your toes.

THEN ARCH arms overhead, the way dancers do, again pull up with those bulky middle muscles, stretch through the middle, then bend to the side, first to one side, then to the other. As you become supple, you'll bend more freely. And you will feel buoyed up, not weighed down.

Exercise to be really worth the while should do as much for the spirit as it does for the muscles. Then it pulls you out of the rut, mentally and physically.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Cars Hinder Success In Schoolwork

Driving an automobile to high school and parking it there may make a boy consider himself a big shot. His stock with the girls may go up, though his marks may go down. According to a national magazine, a local high school study in Idaho revealed that not a single A student owned a car and only 15 per cent of the B students did. Yet 41 per cent of the C students and 71 per cent of the D students had cars. Of those who flunked, 83 per cent owned cars. High School Principal Edwin Anderson of Prosser, Washington, made a similar study and found similar relations between cars and school marks.

By Garry Meyers

Does this mean that having cars made students dull?

GIRLS WHO flock to boys on wheels hardly would admit they are picking out the "dumbest." Nor would parents who buy cars for their high school boys admit that these boys are in the lower brains-bracket.

You and I incline to suspect that having a car in high school diverts the student's efforts from hard work.

All these matters should be easily measured. Let some bright graduate student, needing a subject for a thesis, get busy and give us the facts.

Regardless of a success with books, owning a car or driving the family car to school can hardly further good school discipline and morale.

It's well known that high school youths are the most dangerous drivers.

EXCEPT IN a few cases, the high school boy has no more need of a car than of an elephant. He would get better training in character and citizenship, and cause his parents less worry, if he walked or went to school by bus.

Why the high schools allow students to park on the school grounds is hard to understand. It is harder still to understand why so many parents walk to work or market while their son drives the family car to school.

The increase of cars driven to school by youths is a symptom of the overindulgence of children by their parents which usually begins at the crib.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Pentagon Issues List Of Things It Wants Invented

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has issued a list of things it wishes somebody would invent.

Something that would enable a soldier to jump over a mountain, for instance.

The list of 28 new problems for the nation's inventors was issued by the military Monday through the National Inventors Council, a Commerce Department agency which is a clearing house for military inventions.

The list has been issued, revised and updated from time to time since the council was set up in 1940.

Of the mountain-jumper for soldiers, the council said:

"The device must provide excellent stability and be sufficiently responsive to control that the wearer may use it to assist in his movement over rough terrain while carrying normal combat equipment of the infantry."

The Army has been working on such a rocket belt for some time, but apparently a more ambitious one is needed.

Mayor Proclaims Week In Honor Of Salvation Army

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence today issued a proclamation designating this week as Salvation Army Week in East Liverpool.

He urged all citizens to give their full cooperation to the effort, stating that the principles for which the Army stands "are mighty bulwarks against spiritual and physucal need."

The Army Advisory Board will hold its annual civic banquet Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the First Church of Christ. Donald Baxter, chairman, will preside and Dr. W. J. Smart of London, England, who is terminating an exchange pastorate at the Irondale Methodist Church, will be guest speaker.

Giambra Pounds Out Easy Win Over Jones

Giambra whipped Jones, the New York veteran, decisively. Jones, who once beat Robinson, took only one round on the cards of the judges and referee. Giambra gained a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

Barney Weinstein, business manager of Dallas sports enterprises which promoted the fight, said he would go to New York Wednesday in an effort to arrange an October title match with Robinson. He plans to put the fight on in the Cotton Bowl.

Installation To Be June 5

W. E. Adkins Elevated To Jaycees' Presidency

William Edward Adkins of St. Clair Ave. was elevated to president at the annual election of officers held Monday night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Maggie's Restaurant. He replaces Charles Shriver.

Adkins, a former Boy Scout field executive, is employed by the Crescent Brick Co. of New Cumberland. He is married, has two sons and resides on St. Clair Ave.

James Allison of Chester, an employe of Litten Motors, was elected to first vice president to succeed Adkins and Howard Pearch, an employe of the Louthan Manufacturing Co., was named second vice president, replacing Allison. The first vice president is in charge of all internal activities and the second is in charge of external activities of the unit. Pearch served as secretary the past year.

Named as two-year directors were Robert Hoover of Firestone Stores; Russell Hall of Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. and Harry Stewart of the Review. Elected as one-year directors were John Hales of the Review, Robert Lewis of Bloor's Pharmacy and Mike Roberts of the Review.

Holdover directors are Richard Emmerling, William Weber and Charles Donaldson.

Installation will be held at the inaugural ball Friday, June 5, at the Country Club. Jaycee-ettes officers also will be installed.

John Hales reported the dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m. Dancing will be from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. Bob Hall's orchestra will play.

Presentation of awards will follow the dinner. The annual report will be heard.

Winners of the Teen-age Road-E-O were guests. They were presented plaques, certificates and cash awards. They are Larry Beck and Ruth Carlisle, first; Robert McBane and Sandy Horger, second, and Floyd VanWey Jr. and Marian Wilson, third.

Local Red Cross To Conduct Annual Water Safety Classes

The East Liverpool Red Cross free water safety program for 1959 will get under way June 8, Director Jack Frontone said today.

Instructor aides will meet daily at the Red Cross office June 8 through June 12 for training. A water safety motion picture will be shown at the first meeting.

The first instruction session will be held June 15 through July 3 at Thompson Park pool. Classes in junior and senior life-saving will be in progress from 9 to 10:30 a. m. daily, with beginning, intermediate and advanced swimming classes scheduled for 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon.

The second session is set up for July 6 through July 24, with life-saving classes from 9 to 10:30 a. m., followed by the various swimming lessons from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon.

The program is open to everyone in the community over the age of 6. Registration blanks will be distributed throughout the schools and must be turned in at the Red Cross office. Adults also may obtain applications at the office.

Arrangements for this year's program are being handled by the Water Safety Service Committee comprised of Mrs. R. J. Schiff, chairman; Fire Chief Charles Bryan, James Walker, Alvin Arner and Mrs. Charles Waggoner.

The 1958 swimming session lasted for six weeks, with certificates earned by 148 community swimmers in the various classifications. Frontone and 12 instructor aides conducted the training.

The local program is part of a national Red Cross plan to teach swimming, life-saving and handling of small craft safely and successfully. Training is advocated on a group basis because of the stimulation and motivation an individual gains from group participation, Frontone said. It has enabled millions to learn swimming who otherwise would have no opportunity for individual lessons, he pointed out.

Workers In 3 States Due To Ratify Pact

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Workers in three states are expected to ratify a new two-year contract between the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and the Window Glass Cutters League of America.

The contract, agreed upon Monday, provides about an 8 to 9-cent an hour increase for workers.

Mrs. Truman, 74, Rallies Following Tumor Removal

A Research Hospital spokesman reported her condition was satisfactory. The two-hour and 45-minute operation was performed Monday morning.

Tests were being made to determine whether the tumor was malignant. Results of the biopsy probably will not be known for two or three days.

Former President Truman, showing the strain of a long day, seemed in good spirits when he went home from the hospital Monday night.

"She seemed to be a little groggy from the effects of the medication during the day," Truman said. "The doctors have assured us that everything is going well after the operation."

Convicted Slayer Runs Out Of Pleas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Convicted slayer Walter J. Boymin has run out of appeals.

The U.S. Supreme Court Monday denied another hearing for Byomin. It is now up to the Ohio Supreme Court to set a new date for his execution. Only executive clemency from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle stands between Byomin and the electric chair.

Byomin, who is in death row at Ohio Penitentiary, originally was scheduled to die last November, but U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart granted an indefinite stay pending consideration of his appeal.

The 43-year-old Cleveland man was convicted in the May 4, 1957, shooting of Wellington policeman Edmund G. Smith was shot during a chase.

An Ohio Supreme Court spokesman said the state court will set another date for the execution as soon as the formal notice of the U. S. Supreme Court action is received.

New Land Reform Law Waited Today In Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Foreign landowners in Cuba — and particularly American owners of sugar plantations — waited anxiously today for official publication of the revolutionary government's new land reform law.

A government spokesman said there had been numerous last-minute revisions in the draft of the reform law, which as originally made public here limited ownership of sugar plantations to Cuban citizens and ordered sugar mill companies to get rid of their plantation lands.

Official publication of the law was expected later today. It was proclaimed Sunday by Prime Minister Fidel Castro and his cabinet.

Heart Group To Furnish Nurse For City's Schools Next Term

An offer from the Youngstown Area Heart Association, which includes East Liverpool, to have one of its nurses serve city schools during the 1959-60 term was accepted Monday night by the Board of Education.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said the association plans to assign Mrs. Anna Gruber to the clinic at Westgate School daily to check for possible heart cases, chiefly from rheumatic fever.

Mrs. Gruber will visit the Glenmoor, LaCroft and Pleasant Heights buildings before going to Westgate while Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, will check students in other schools.

Betts explained the association plans to have its nurse examine students for sore throats. Where a case is discovered, permission will be sought from parents to take throat cultures for examination.

The fees for examining the throat cultures will be paid by the heart association which is supported partially by funds collected in East Liverpool during its annual fund campaign, the superintendent said.

Betts also reported that a course of study for all grades and subjects in all schools of the city has been completed. The courses of study for elementary and junior high pupils have been mimeographed and bound and work is under way on binding the high school course of study.

"Every staff member has participated and I feel they have done a good job," the superintendent commented.

The superintendent was given permission to visit an Ohio Power Co. reclamation and conservation project between Marietta and Zanesville next Monday and Tuesday.

Pentagon Issues List Of Things It Wants Invented

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has issued a list of things it wishes somebody would invent.

Something that would enable a soldier to jump over a mountain, for instance.

The list of 28 new problems for the nation's inventors was issued by the military Monday through the National Inventors Council, a Commerce Department agency which is a clearing house for military inventions.

The list has been issued, revised and updated from time to time since the council was set up in 1940.

Of the mountain-jumper for soldiers, the council said:

"The device must provide excellent stability and be sufficiently responsive to control that the wearer may use it to assist in his movement over rough terrain while carrying normal combat equipment of the infantry."

The Army has been working on such a rocket belt for some time, but apparently a more ambitious one is needed.

Mayor Proclaims Week In Honor Of Salvation Army

He urged all citizens to give their full cooperation to the effort, stating that the principles for which the Army stands "are mighty bulwarks against spiritual and physucal need."

The Army Advisory Board will hold its annual civic banquet Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the First Church of Christ. Donald Baxter, chairman, will preside and Dr. W. J. Smart of London, England, who is terminating an exchange pastorate at the Irondale Methodist Church, will be guest speaker.

Giambra Pounds Out Easy Win Over Jones

Giambra whipped Jones, the New York veteran, decisively. Jones, who once beat Robinson, took only one round on the cards of the judges and referee. Giambra gained a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

Barney Weinstein, business manager of Dallas sports enterprises which promoted the fight, said he would go to New York Wednesday in an effort to arrange an October title match with Robinson. He plans to put the fight on in the Cotton Bowl.

Local Red Cross To Conduct Annual Water Safety Classes

The East Liverpool Red Cross free water safety program for 1959 will get under way June 8, Director Jack Frontone said today.

Instructor aides will meet daily at the Red Cross office June 8 through June 12 for training. A water safety motion picture will be shown at the first meeting.

The first instruction session will be held June 15 through July 3 at Thompson Park pool. Classes in junior and senior life-saving will be in progress from 9 to 10:30 a. m. daily, with beginning, intermediate and advanced swimming classes scheduled for 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon.

The second session is set up for July 6 through July 24, with life-saving classes from 9 to 10:30 a. m., followed by the various swimming lessons from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon.

The program is open to everyone in the community over the age of 6. Registration blanks will be distributed throughout the schools and must be turned in at the Red Cross office. Adults also may obtain applications at the office.

Arrangements for this year's program are being handled by the Water Safety Service Committee comprised of Mrs. R. J. Schiff, chairman; Fire Chief Charles Bryan, James Walker, Alvin Arner and Mrs. Charles Waggoner.

The 1958 swimming session lasted for six weeks, with certificates earned by 148 community swimmers in the various classifications. Frontone and 12 instructor aides conducted the training.

The local program is part of a national Red Cross plan to teach swimming, life-saving and handling of small craft safely and successfully. Training is advocated on a group basis because of the stimulation and motivation an individual gains from group participation, Frontone said. It has enabled millions to learn swimming who otherwise would have no opportunity for individual lessons, he pointed out.

Mrs. Truman, 74, Rallies Following Tumor Removal

A Research Hospital spokesman reported her condition was satisfactory. The two-hour and 45-minute operation was performed Monday morning.

Tests were being made to determine whether the tumor was malignant. Results of the biopsy probably will not be known for two or three days.

Former President Truman, showing the strain of a long day, seemed in good spirits when he went home from the hospital Monday night.

"She seemed to be a little groggy from the effects of the medication during the day," Truman said. "The doctors have assured us that everything is going well after the operation."

Mrs. Truman entered the hospital last Thursday for a checkup.

Convicted Slayer Runs Out Of Pleas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Convicted slayer Walter J. Boymin has run out of appeals.

The U.S. Supreme Court Monday denied another hearing for Byomin. It is now up to the Ohio Supreme Court to set a new date for his execution. Only executive clemency from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle stands between Byomin and the electric chair.

Byomin, who is in death row at Ohio Penitentiary, originally was scheduled to die last November, but U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart granted an indefinite stay pending consideration of his appeal.

The 43-year-old Cleveland man was convicted in the May 4, 1957, shooting of Wellington policeman Edmund G. Smith was shot during a chase.

An Ohio Supreme Court spokesman said the state court will set another date for the execution as soon as the formal notice of the U. S. Supreme Court action is received.

New Land Reform Law Waited Today In Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Foreign landowners in Cuba — and particularly American owners of sugar plantations — waited anxiously today for official publication of the revolutionary government's new land reform law.

A government spokesman said there had been numerous last-minute revisions in the draft of the reform law, which as originally made public here limited ownership of sugar plantations to Cuban citizens and ordered sugar mill companies to get rid of their plantation lands.

Official publication of the law was expected later today. It was proclaimed Sunday by Prime Minister Fidel Castro and his cabinet.

Heart Group To Furnish Nurse For City's Schools Next Term

An offer from the Youngstown Area Heart Association, which includes East Liverpool, to have one of its nurses serve city schools during the 1959-60 term was accepted Monday night by the Board of Education.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said the association plans to assign Mrs. Anna Gruber to the clinic at Westgate School daily to check for possible heart cases, chiefly from rheumatic fever.

Mrs. Gruber will visit the Glenmoor, LaCroft and Pleasant Heights buildings before going to Westgate while Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, will check students in other schools.

Betts explained the association plans to have its nurse examine students for sore throats. Where a case is discovered, permission will be sought from parents to take throat cultures for examination.

The fees for examining the throat cultures will be paid by the heart association which is supported partially by funds collected in East Liverpool during its annual fund campaign, the superintendent said.

Betts also reported that a course of study for all grades and subjects in all schools of the city has been completed. The courses of study for elementary and junior high pupils have been mimeographed and bound and work is under way on binding the high school course of study.

"Every staff member has participated and I feel they have done a good job," the superintendent commented.

The superintendent was given permission to visit an Ohio Power Co. reclamation and conservation project between Marietta and Zanesville next Monday and Tuesday.

Council Told Of Damage

East End Boat Club Faces Inquiry

Council agreed Monday night to make an investigation of complaints that a newly-formed East End boat club has made an unauthorized cut in the river bank and removed trees from a section of city-owned property on Ohio Ave. upstream from Keene St.

Questions about the club's actions first were posted by Councilman H. A. Tullis to Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross, leading to a discussion in which plans were made for the investigation.

"IN REGARD to the new boat club that has been put in on lower Ohio Ave., did it get permission to cut away the river bank?" Tullis asked.

"They requested permission to put in a path," the director replied. "They were told it would be all right as long as they didn't cut away the bank or destroy the trees, but they did both."

Tullis replied that the new club also has put in an unsightly utility pole in front of a nearby home —apparently where it will hook up its electric service. He suggested the club be told to remove the pole.

"They certainly didn't go by our instructions," the director replied. "Our policy has been to allow people to use city property on the river at their own risk and without a contract. We'll be governed by whatever Council decides in this case."

Then Tullis moved for the investigation by Council. "Boat Clubs are welcome, but not when they jeopardize city property," he said. The fresh cut may threaten Ohio Ave. when the river level is raised by the new Stratton "super-dam," he said.

IN RESPONSE to several members' questions on the location of the new club, Ross said it is on lower Ohio Ave. upstream from Keen St. It should not be confused with another boat club which is located downstream at a point near Ralstons Crossing on the River Rd., he said.

In other business, Council enacted a resolution authorizing the administration to advertise for a year's supply of motor oil and fuel for the street, incinerator, police and fire departments. The bids generally are requested late each spring.

The administration was authorized to buy 15,000 gallons of gasoline, 500 gallons of motor oil, 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel and 200 gallons of hydraulic oil. The contract will be let by Ross and and Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, comprising the Board of Control.

Reporting for the street committee, Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. reported approval of requests for installation of new street lights on Maine Blvd. and Spring Grove Ave. and re-establishment of a light at W. 2nd and Jefferson St.

THE COMMITTEE was given a petition asking a new light on Lemon St.

He commended the police department for its recent crackdown on speeders and reckless drivers, but asked a particular check on fast driving on Bradshaw Ave., Laura Ave. and Ambrose Ave.

Sample also declared that he has received complaints of speeding powerboats on the river off East Liverpool, although he pointed out he recognized that the city has no control over Ohio River traffic.

"But the people who complained to me said that some of these fast boats are liable to swamp smaller, slower craft," Sample said.

Councilman A. Stanley Kidder pointed out that the Coast Guard has control over river traffic, including pleasure boats.

"IF THEY ARE operating in an unsafe manner, they can be barred from the river," he said.

Council received a letter from Mayor Lawrence inviting the members to ride in the Memorial Day parade May 30. Council ordered a reply saying that as many members as possible will be in the line of march.

Council also received a letter giving notice of the annual exhibit of machinery and equipment arranged by the Ohio Municipal League Sept. 16-18 at Akron. At least four members indicated they may be interested in attending. The letter was passed on to the mayor, as the invitation also was directed to most city department heads.

Ross reported that the street department has been able to obtain supplies of "red dog" recently and is using the material to help build up the surface of dirt streets, particularly those that became bogs in the sprint thaws.

KIDDER REQUESTED that the water department repair the loose cover of a water valve box on Harvey Ave. in the vicinity of Putnam St. He thanked the water department for repairing a curb and a pavement hole on Michigan Ave. and commended the street department for repair work on Pennsylvania Ave. at Ridgeway Ave.

Councilman Samuel B. Webber asked more repair work on the Lisbon St. Hill curve near St. Aloysius Cemetery. Council filed a farewell letter from Paul Burrows, former news editor at WOHI, who has taken a new post at Parkersburg.

The meeting opened with invocation by Councilman W. E. Kaiser. Councilman George E. Willshaw was excused.

Souvenir Book Will Be Given Guests At BPW Dinner Event

A record of events in the 20-year life of the local Business and Professional Women's Club is contained in a souvenir booklet which will be distributed to the 250 guests attending the club's anniversary banquet Wednesday night at the St. Aloysius School.

Entitled "What BPW Means In East Liverpool", the booklet highlights the group's many community service projects.

Among them are the Child Health Clinic; the many World War II activities, including the sale of $225,000 in War Bonds; the maintenance of foster homes for wards of Juvenile Court; establishing "career conferences" for local high school students, and the most recent project, the BPW Science Fair.

Many other local projects and activities are enumerated in the booklet, along with an outline of the purposes of the national and the Ohio federations of BPW clubs.

Dr. Majorie Fraser Webster of Washington, D.C., a member of the Executive Board of the national BPW federation, will be the principal speaker Wednesday. Special guests will include Mrs. Chloe Maloney, president of the Ohio federation; Mrs. Agnes Merritt, first vice president; Mrs. Catherine Stanford, membership chairman; Mrs. Marguerite Davis, director of District 8, and Mrs. Marian Rankin, director of District 4.

Representatives from BPW clubs in Sebring, Youngstown, Columbiana, Salem, Steubenville, Kent, Dennison - Uhrichsville, Aliquippa, Beaver Falls, and the Panhandle in West Virginia will attend in addition to representatives from 14 women's clubs in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell.

A special pottery ware souvenir is being produced in a local plant for distribution at the event. The ware will bear the club's emblem and the year's 1939-1959 inscribed in gold.

Nine members of the BPW just returned from the 39th annual convention of the Ohio Federation of BPW Clubs May 15-17 in Cincinnati. The delegation was headed by Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh, president, and Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president-elect.

Mrs. Wambaugh served as a floor teller during the business sessions. Other delegates in addition to Mrs. Dunlop participating in "program workshops" included Miss Helen Bibbee, Mrs. Gertrude Reese, Mrs. Helen Moore, Miss Rachel Ketchum, Mrs. Donna Allison, Miss Helen Auld and Mrs. Faye Wright.

The late Miss Agnes Cleland was among those listed for tribute. Miss Cleland, former society editor of The Review, died Oct. 13, 1958. She was a member of the local club's executive board for 10 years.

Mental Patient Indicted For Strangling Mother

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 34-year-old mental patient has been indicted by the Franklin County Grand Jury on a second-degree murder charge in the strangulation of her mother.

The indictment was returned Monday against Miss Phyllis Gerard, charged with the choking her invalid mother, Mrs. Jean A. Gerard, 65, to death last Saturday. Miss Gerard was on a weekend visit at her mother's home from the Columbus Receiving Hospital where she was a voluntary patient.

County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison said he will ask that Miss Gerard be sent to Lima State Hospital for observation.

Lansing To Have Hats For Birthday Party

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lansing, Mich., will have some hats for its 100th birthday party after all.

Lansing had complained it couldn't get any novelty hats because hat manufacturers were working overtime to fill orders for Oregon's centennial.

The hats were collected by the Sanitary Truck Drivers Union.

Navy Shows New Way To Store Blood

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — The Navy today took the wraps off a development which is expected to revolutionize storage and use of blood.

Hitherto red cells have had a usable life of not more than a month, often not more then 20 days.

But Navy medical officers disclosed more than 500 entirely successful transfusions have been made at the U.S. Naval Hospital here with blood stored anywhere from a month to two years, and they think two years will not long remain a limit.

The technique will be unveiled formally at the American Medical Assn. Convention at Atlantic City, N.J., June 8.

The development has been a joint achievement of the Navy and the Protein Foundation.

Blood is transferred to a fractionator, which works on the same principle as a cream separator. The fractionator separates the red cells from other elements. The red cells then are mixed in glycerine and placed in a freezer. The glycerine prevents formation of ice crystals which would destroy the red cells.

Educators Watch Goats Who Forecast Weather

"The goats are up" is a heartening cry in Roseburg. Picnics are planned, golf dates are made and fishing trips planned. Invariably the sun shines.

But when the goats come down from Mt. Nebo to the shelter of shallow caves, bad weather inevitably follows.

How do they know what the weather will be?

Judge Takes New Tack With Young Offenders

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge Jack Pritchard is taking a new tack with juvenile offenders. He requires most of them to submit to mental and physical examination at State Hospital No. 3.

This has given certain pause to the set whose byword is — "crazy man, crazy!"

"There isn't any doubt it's changed a lot of attitudes," said Darrell Estes Jr., chief of police in this southwest Missouri city and juvenile officer for Missouri's 26th Judicial Circuit.

Estes said he thinks Judge Pritchard's strategy will be as much a preventive as a remedy.

It is too early for sweeping conclusions about how it is working. But Judge Pritchard and Chief Estes are encouraged by what it is doing for four boys.

Council Told Of Damage

East End Boat Club Faces Inquiry

Council agreed Monday night to make an investigation of complaints that a newly-formed East End boat club has made an unauthorized cut in the river bank and removed trees from a section of city-owned property on Ohio Ave. upstream from Keene St.

Questions about the club's actions first were posted by Councilman H. A. Tullis to Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross, leading to a discussion in which plans were made for the investigation.

"IN REGARD to the new boat club that has been put in on lower Ohio Ave., did it get permission to cut away the river bank?" Tullis asked.

"They requested permission to put in a path," the director replied. "They were told it would be all right as long as they didn't cut away the bank or destroy the trees, but they did both."

Tullis replied that the new club also has put in an unsightly utility pole in front of a nearby home —apparently where it will hook up its electric service. He suggested the club be told to remove the pole.

"They certainly didn't go by our instructions," the director replied. "Our policy has been to allow people to use city property on the river at their own risk and without a contract. We'll be governed by whatever Council decides in this case."

Then Tullis moved for the investigation by Council. "Boat Clubs are welcome, but not when they jeopardize city property," he said. The fresh cut may threaten Ohio Ave. when the river level is raised by the new Stratton "super-dam," he said.

IN RESPONSE to several members' questions on the location of the new club, Ross said it is on lower Ohio Ave. upstream from Keen St. It should not be confused with another boat club which is located downstream at a point near Ralstons Crossing on the River Rd., he said.

In other business, Council enacted a resolution authorizing the administration to advertise for a year's supply of motor oil and fuel for the street, incinerator, police and fire departments. The bids generally are requested late each spring.

The administration was authorized to buy 15,000 gallons of gasoline, 500 gallons of motor oil, 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel and 200 gallons of hydraulic oil. The contract will be let by Ross and and Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, comprising the Board of Control.

Reporting for the street committee, Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. reported approval of requests for installation of new street lights on Maine Blvd. and Spring Grove Ave. and re-establishment of a light at W. 2nd and Jefferson St.

THE COMMITTEE was given a petition asking a new light on Lemon St.

He commended the police department for its recent crackdown on speeders and reckless drivers, but asked a particular check on fast driving on Bradshaw Ave., Laura Ave. and Ambrose Ave.

Sample also declared that he has received complaints of speeding powerboats on the river off East Liverpool, although he pointed out he recognized that the city has no control over Ohio River traffic.

"But the people who complained to me said that some of these fast boats are liable to swamp smaller, slower craft," Sample said.

Councilman A. Stanley Kidder pointed out that the Coast Guard has control over river traffic, including pleasure boats.

"IF THEY ARE operating in an unsafe manner, they can be barred from the river," he said.

Council received a letter from Mayor Lawrence inviting the members to ride in the Memorial Day parade May 30. Council ordered a reply saying that as many members as possible will be in the line of march.

Council also received a letter giving notice of the annual exhibit of machinery and equipment arranged by the Ohio Municipal League Sept. 16-18 at Akron. At least four members indicated they may be interested in attending. The letter was passed on to the mayor, as the invitation also was directed to most city department heads.

Ross reported that the street department has been able to obtain supplies of "red dog" recently and is using the material to help build up the surface of dirt streets, particularly those that became bogs in the sprint thaws.

KIDDER REQUESTED that the water department repair the loose cover of a water valve box on Harvey Ave. in the vicinity of Putnam St. He thanked the water department for repairing a curb and a pavement hole on Michigan Ave. and commended the street department for repair work on Pennsylvania Ave. at Ridgeway Ave.

Councilman Samuel B. Webber asked more repair work on the Lisbon St. Hill curve near St. Aloysius Cemetery. Council filed a farewell letter from Paul Burrows, former news editor at WOHI, who has taken a new post at Parkersburg.

The meeting opened with invocation by Councilman W. E. Kaiser. Councilman George E. Willshaw was excused.

Souvenir Book Will Be Given Guests At BPW Dinner Event

A record of events in the 20-year life of the local Business and Professional Women's Club is contained in a souvenir booklet which will be distributed to the 250 guests attending the club's anniversary banquet Wednesday night at the St. Aloysius School.

Entitled "What BPW Means In East Liverpool", the booklet highlights the group's many community service projects.

Among them are the Child Health Clinic; the many World War II activities, including the sale of $225,000 in War Bonds; the maintenance of foster homes for wards of Juvenile Court; establishing "career conferences" for local high school students, and the most recent project, the BPW Science Fair.

Many other local projects and activities are enumerated in the booklet, along with an outline of the purposes of the national and the Ohio federations of BPW clubs.

Dr. Majorie Fraser Webster of Washington, D.C., a member of the Executive Board of the national BPW federation, will be the principal speaker Wednesday. Special guests will include Mrs. Chloe Maloney, president of the Ohio federation; Mrs. Agnes Merritt, first vice president; Mrs. Catherine Stanford, membership chairman; Mrs. Marguerite Davis, director of District 8, and Mrs. Marian Rankin, director of District 4.

Representatives from BPW clubs in Sebring, Youngstown, Columbiana, Salem, Steubenville, Kent, Dennison - Uhrichsville, Aliquippa, Beaver Falls, and the Panhandle in West Virginia will attend in addition to representatives from 14 women's clubs in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell.

A special pottery ware souvenir is being produced in a local plant for distribution at the event. The ware will bear the club's emblem and the year's 1939-1959 inscribed in gold.

Nine members of the BPW just returned from the 39th annual convention of the Ohio Federation of BPW Clubs May 15-17 in Cincinnati. The delegation was headed by Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh, president, and Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president-elect.

Mrs. Wambaugh served as a floor teller during the business sessions. Other delegates in addition to Mrs. Dunlop participating in "program workshops" included Miss Helen Bibbee, Mrs. Gertrude Reese, Mrs. Helen Moore, Miss Rachel Ketchum, Mrs. Donna Allison, Miss Helen Auld and Mrs. Faye Wright.

The late Miss Agnes Cleland was among those listed for tribute. Miss Cleland, former society editor of The Review, died Oct. 13, 1958. She was a member of the local club's executive board for 10 years.

Mental Patient Indicted For Strangling Mother

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 34-year-old mental patient has been indicted by the Franklin County Grand Jury on a second-degree murder charge in the strangulation of her mother.

The indictment was returned Monday against Miss Phyllis Gerard, charged with the choking her invalid mother, Mrs. Jean A. Gerard, 65, to death last Saturday. Miss Gerard was on a weekend visit at her mother's home from the Columbus Receiving Hospital where she was a voluntary patient.

County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison said he will ask that Miss Gerard be sent to Lima State Hospital for observation.

Lansing To Have Hats For Birthday Party

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lansing, Mich., will have some hats for its 100th birthday party after all.

Lansing had complained it couldn't get any novelty hats because hat manufacturers were working overtime to fill orders for Oregon's centennial.

The hats were collected by the Sanitary Truck Drivers Union.

Navy Shows New Way To Store Blood

Hitherto red cells have had a usable life of not more than a month, often not more then 20 days.

But Navy medical officers disclosed more than 500 entirely successful transfusions have been made at the U.S. Naval Hospital here with blood stored anywhere from a month to two years, and they think two years will not long remain a limit.

The development has been a joint achievement of the Navy and the Protein Foundation.

Blood is transferred to a fractionator, which works on the same principle as a cream separator. The fractionator separates the red cells from other elements. The red cells then are mixed in glycerine and placed in a freezer. The glycerine prevents formation of ice crystals which would destroy the red cells.

Educators Watch Goats Who Forecast Weather

"The goats are up" is a heartening cry in Roseburg. Picnics are planned, golf dates are made and fishing trips planned. Invariably the sun shines.

Judge Takes New Tack With Young Offenders

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge Jack Pritchard is taking a new tack with juvenile offenders. He requires most of them to submit to mental and physical examination at State Hospital No. 3.

This has given certain pause to the set whose byword is — "crazy man, crazy!"

"There isn't any doubt it's changed a lot of attitudes," said Darrell Estes Jr., chief of police in this southwest Missouri city and juvenile officer for Missouri's 26th Judicial Circuit.

Estes said he thinks Judge Pritchard's strategy will be as much a preventive as a remedy.

It is too early for sweeping conclusions about how it is working. But Judge Pritchard and Chief Estes are encouraged by what it is doing for four boys.

Why Review Advertising Is Best For YOU!

1 Newspaper advertising reaches more people than any other medium.

88% of the nation's families get a newspaper every day. Over 100 million people, 82% of all people 12 years of age and over, read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these people has the opportunity to see every ad in the daily newspaper. Only a small number of these people could be reached with any TV, radio or magazine ad.

2 People like advertising in newspapers better than in any other medium.

People feel friendly toward advertising in newspapers. Surveys show that far fewer people want advertising in other media. An advertiser wants his customers to like him, so it stands to reason he will benefit if he runs his ads where they please instead of annoy people.

Newspapers offer something for everybody — information, entertainment, editorials, advertising. And the reader is attracted to the ad that interests him. This means that readership ratings indicate people with an interest in the program.

As a news medium, the daily newspaper gives advertising an atmosphere of action and believability. People have confidence in and believe in newspapers. This prompts action on the part of the reader.

An advertiser can tell his story in the size that suits his needs. He can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed copy story, or he can tell his story in the same or smaller space with just a few words.

Four million U. S. retailers invest 2½ billion dollars in the daily newspaper —more than they spend in all other media combined. No other medium has as close a relationship with retailers as the daily newspaper.

7 Newspaper advertising is a safer and surer investment than advertising in any other medium.

In some media a good percentage of the results are affected by the variables of the medium, and by the medium's own competition. In newspapers, the advertising stands on its own feet, unaffected by such variables. Newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and pleasure of the consumer. The daily newspaper is always selling.

The cost of an advertising medium depends on a combination of two things: First, how much it costs to reach a person with a sales story. Second, what action that sales story causes the person to take — or how much it costs to make a sale.

In this respect, also, there is no substitute for Newspaper Advertising.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers.

Baltimore Drops Indians From Top Spot After 3-0 Shutout

TUESDAY, MAY 19, 1959 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 13

Strickland Out After Pulling Leg Muscle

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the first time since virtually the beginning of the season, the Cleveland Indians have been ousted from the top spot in the American League standings.

The loss wasn't the only bad news for the Tribe. George Strickland pulled a leg muscle while chasing a pop foul and will be on the bench for three or four days.

Hal Brown, Oriole knuckle-ball specialist was credited with the win. He now has a record of 28 1-3 scoreless innings against the Indians, dating back to last July 19.

Monday night he got help from reliever Bill Loes in the eighth after a single by Dave Dillard and an error put Indians on first and second with two out. Loes got Rocky Colavito, who had singled and doubled earlier, on a fly to center field.

The only inning in which the Indians could put together two hits was the third, when Billy Martin singled, went to second on a sacrifice and to third when Woodie Held beat out a slow roller for a single. Then Jim Piersall flied to Bobby Avila to end the threat.

Ferrarese gave up five hits altogether before being removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth. He now has won three and lost two.

12 Hits Support Shaw In Chester's 11-3 Win

A big eight-run fifth inning proved the clincher for the Panthers. Triples by Shaw and Bill Mayhew and a single produced two runs in the fourth inning.

Chester came back in the fifth inning and tallied eight times to take a 10-0 lead before Lisbon broke the ice with one run in the bottom of the fifth. The Blue Devils scored twice in the sixth inning and Chester followed with one more run in the seventh.

Brooks who was charged with the loss was relieved by Thorne in the fifth inning.

Kenny Sayre sparked the Panthers at the plate with three hits in four trips and two RBI's. Shaw, Frank Kenny and Mayhew each collected two hits apiece.

Cage Tourney Crowds Hit Million First Time

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball tournament attendance hit the million mark this year for the first time in history.

Commissioner W. J. McConnell said Monday that the 1959 season drew 1,019,865 persons in county, district, regional, sectional and state tournaments. Previous high was 991,089 persons in 1957.

Reds Bounce From 5 Runs Back To Win

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Mayo Smith, in the interest of stern scientific research, has started to throw his pitchers into the water to see if they swim.

And Orlando Pena, the skinny, garrulous Cuban, showed Monday night, at least, he can float reasonably well—with the aid of his Cincinnati Reds colleagues.

Cincinnati came from five runs behind to beat Los Angeles, 9-7.

Another reliefer — Bob Mabe—also was getting his big test Monday night. Smith threw him in as starter against the Dodgers and he promptly started the Reds toward a five-run deficit.

But Pena, taking over in the second, held good control over the Dodgers until the eighth inning. At that point he found himself in a big hole.

The Reds had just picked up a three run lead. But Pena had two men on base on a double, a walk and a forceout.

The Reds picked up one run in the ninth. Jim Pendleton and Ed Bailey singled and Pena squeezed off the run-making bunt.

But with one out, Dodger rookie Ron Fairly belted his second homer. Then Pena threw out Don Demeter and got Norm Larker to fly out and end the game.

After the first inning, the Reds were three runs behind, and didn't catch up until the fifth. John Temple led off with his second season homer. Jerry Lynch singled and after Frank Robinson fanned, Gus Bell banged a home run, his fifth this year.

Chicago Dumps Senators, 9-2

10-For-11 Streak Carries White Sox To First Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The red-hot Chicago White Sox finally lead the American League, but it took one whale of a parlay to get 'em there. All they needed was a 10-for-11 streak, plus the winningest pitcher in the majors, plus the first shutout of the season by Baltimore's staff.

It all happened Monday night. The White Sox collected a 9-2 victory at Washington, behind the five-hit pitching of Early Wynn, while Baltimore beat Cleveland 3-0 and skidded the Indians to second place on the combined six-hit work of Skinny Brown and Billy Loes.

The White Sox, who began their run for the top after slumping to fourth, 4½ games behind Cleveland 10 days ago, now have a half-game edge over the Indians, who have only a 4-5 record for the same span.

Last place Detroit walloped Boston 14-2 as right-hander Jim Bunning drove in five runs toward his fourth straight victory. Kansas City and New York were idle.

Wynn, the 39-year-old right - hander, has won three in a row during the spurt and became the first to win six this season in the AL while packing away his 255th career victory. He walked four, struck out four and was working on his third shutout until Reno Bertoia hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

The Sox counted three in the first inning against Chuck Stobbs (1-4), scoring on Jim Landis' sacrifice fly, a double by Del Ennis and the first of two RBI singles by Earl Torgeson. Sherm Lollar, who homered and doubled, drove in two runs along with Torgy and Landis, who cashed another sacrifice fly. Al Smith also homered for the Sox, who had a dozen hits.

The Indians got all their hits off Brown (1-1). They finally got rid of the 34-year-old right - hander, making his second start, in the eighth, when Loes moved in and retired Rocky Colavito on a fly with two on and two out. Loes hung up his fifth save with the hitless mop-up.

The Orioles got the run they needed in the third when Don Ferrarese (3-2) forced it in with two walks.

Bunning (4-3) scattering seven hits for his fifth consecutive complete game, rapped a three-run homer, a 420-foot triple and two singles in his four-at bats as the Tigers swung for 16 hits against loser Frank Sullivan (1-3) and three relievers. Ten of the hits were for extra bases, with Al Kaline, Charlie Maxwell and Frank Bolling also hitting homers.

TV-Baseball Resume Talks

Commissioner Ford Frick and minor league chief George M. Trautman meet with an eight-man committee in two-day sessions which Trautman says "could be the most important meeting ever held on this matter."

Trautman, who says some fans have not been enlightened as to why some telecasts are not available to them, asked the "legion of baseballs fans everywhere to consider why it is necessary for some restrictions to be imposed on major league television in certain areas."

He explained:

"Television games are blacked out only when the minor league team is playing at home at a time the televised game is in progress, and even then the telecast may run up to 30 minutes before the minor league game starts. This is a simple economic fact . . . that must be recognized if we are to survive."

After 10 seasons in the minors, third baseman Jim Baxes played in the majors with Los Angles this spring.

Baltimore Drops Indians From Top Spot After 3-0 Shutout

Strickland Out After Pulling Leg Muscle

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the first time since virtually the beginning of the season, the Cleveland Indians have been ousted from the top spot in the American League standings.

Baltimore shut out the Indians 3-0 Monday night, and Chicago bounced into first place, half a game ahead of the Tribe, by whipping Washington 9-2.

The loss wasn't the only bad news for the Tribe. George Strickland pulled a leg muscle while chasing a pop foul and will be on the bench for three or four days.

Hal Brown, Oriole knuckle-ball specialist was credited with the win. He now has a record of 28 1-3 scoreless innings against the Indians, dating back to last July 19.

Monday night he got help from reliever Bill Loes in the eighth after a single by Dave Dillard and an error put Indians on first and second with two out. Loes got Rocky Colavito, who had singled and doubled earlier, on a fly to center field.

The only inning in which the Indians could put together two hits was the third, when Billy Martin singled, went to second on a sacrifice and to third when Woodie Held beat out a slow roller for a single. Then Jim Piersall flied to Bobby Avila to end the threat.

Losing pitcher Don Ferrarese walked in the first run in the third inning after filling the bases on two singles and a walk.

Three more hits in the fifth gave the Orioles their other two runs.

Ferrarese gave up five hits altogether before being removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth. He now has won three and lost two.

12 Hits Support Shaw In Chester's 11-3 Win

Chester's ace righthander Don Shaw struck out 15 batters and issued only three hits as the Panthers clubbed Lisbon, 11-3, Monday at the County seat.

Shaw received some solid backing from his teammates who rattled two Lisbon hurlers for 12 hits.

A big eight-run fifth inning proved the clincher for the Panthers. Triples by Shaw and Bill Mayhew and a single produced two runs in the fourth inning.

Chester came back in the fifth inning and tallied eight times to take a 10-0 lead before Lisbon broke the ice with one run in the bottom of the fifth. The Blue Devils scored twice in the sixth inning and Chester followed with one more run in the seventh.

Brooks who was charged with the loss was relieved by Thorne in the fifth inning.

Kenny Sayre sparked the Panthers at the plate with three hits in four trips and two RBI's. Shaw, Frank Kenny and Mayhew each collected two hits apiece.

Thorne chipped in with two of the three Lisbon safeties.

Chicago Dumps Senators, 9-2

10-For-11 Streak Carries White Sox To First Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The red-hot Chicago White Sox finally lead the American League, but it took one whale of a parlay to get 'em there. All they needed was a 10-for-11 streak, plus the winningest pitcher in the majors, plus the first shutout of the season by Baltimore's staff.

It all happened Monday night. The White Sox collected a 9-2 victory at Washington, behind the five-hit pitching of Early Wynn, while Baltimore beat Cleveland 3-0 and skidded the Indians to second place on the combined six-hit work of Skinny Brown and Billy Loes.

The White Sox, who began their run for the top after slumping to fourth, 4½ games behind Cleveland 10 days ago, now have a half-game edge over the Indians, who have only a 4-5 record for the same span.

Last place Detroit walloped Boston 14-2 as right-hander Jim Bunning drove in five runs toward his fourth straight victory. Kansas City and New York were idle.

Wynn, the 39-year-old right - hander, has won three in a row during the spurt and became the first to win six this season in the AL while packing away his 255th career victory. He walked four, struck out four and was working on his third shutout until Reno Bertoia hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

The Sox counted three in the first inning against Chuck Stobbs (1-4), scoring on Jim Landis' sacrifice fly, a double by Del Ennis and the first of two RBI singles by Earl Torgeson. Sherm Lollar, who homered and doubled, drove in two runs along with Torgy and Landis, who cashed another sacrifice fly. Al Smith also homered for the Sox, who had a dozen hits.

The Indians got all their hits off Brown (1-1). They finally got rid of the 34-year-old right - hander, making his second start, in the eighth, when Loes moved in and retired Rocky Colavito on a fly with two on and two out. Loes hung up his fifth save with the hitless mop-up.

The Orioles got the run they needed in the third when Don Ferrarese (3-2) forced it in with two walks.

Bunning (4-3) scattering seven hits for his fifth consecutive complete game, rapped a three-run homer, a 420-foot triple and two singles in his four-at bats as the Tigers swung for 16 hits against loser Frank Sullivan (1-3) and three relievers. Ten of the hits were for extra bases, with Al Kaline, Charlie Maxwell and Frank Bolling also hitting homers.

TV-Baseball Resume Talks

Commissioner Ford Frick and minor league chief George M. Trautman meet with an eight-man committee in two-day sessions which Trautman says "could be the most important meeting ever held on this matter."

Trautman, who says some fans have not been enlightened as to why some telecasts are not available to them, asked the "legion of baseballs fans everywhere to consider why it is necessary for some restrictions to be imposed on major league television in certain areas."

He explained:

"Television games are blacked out only when the minor league team is playing at home at a time the televised game is in progress, and even then the telecast may run up to 30 minutes before the minor league game starts. This is a simple economic fact . . . that must be recognized if we are to survive."

After 10 seasons in the minors, third baseman Jim Baxes played in the majors with Los Angles this spring.

Braves Win 5th Straight To Gain Widest Lead Of Season

Aaron Extends Hitting Streak To 22 Contests

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

First place is a kiss of death in the National League, except for the Milwaukee Braves — the only club that hasn't found the lead a ticket to fourth place.

In the first week of play, San Francisco broke on top — then lost five of eight and skidded to fourth. Milwaukee was on top for the next two weeks, gave way momentarily as Los Angeles moved in, then returned while the Dodgers dropped four of five and slipped to fourth.

The Giants made a repeat trip to the top May 2 — then dipped to fourth again, losing three of four while the Braves returned to first.

Cincinnati was next — but lost four straight and fell to fourth.

Then the Dodgers were back. They won four in a row and had a half-game edge on Milwaukee a week ago. But they haven't won one since while the Braves have set up shop once again, winning eight of nine.

Milwaukee made it five straight with a 4-2 victory at San Francisco Monday for a 3½ - game bulge, largest of the year in the NL, over the second place Giants. The Dodgers plunged to their fifth consecutive defeat with a 9-7 defeat by Cincinnati. No other NL games were scheduled.

The Dodgers blew a 5-0 lead against the Reds, who tied it with homers by Johnny Temple and Gus Bell in a three-run fifth then beat reliever Clem Labine (1-5) in the eighth on Vada Pinson's two-run double and Frank Robinson's single.

Southpaw Warren Spahn (5-4) gained the 251st victory of his career for the Braves. Milwaukee put it away in a two-run sixth against Sam Jones (3-5) on four consecutive hits with two out. Hank Aaron extended his hit streak to 22 games.

JOHN MOSTYN (right) has his own cheering section as he works out on the track at Bergen Catholic High School at Crandell, N. J. Mostyn, 18, shocked AAU officials when he equalled the world's 100-yard-dash record of 9.3 seconds in a meet at Englewood, N. J., Saturday. His classmates won't have many more times to watch him run as the track star expects to enter a Catholic religious order upon graduation. (UPI Telephoto)

Youth Movement Is On In Professional Golf

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The youth movement in golf, highlighted in America's Walker Cup victory last weekend, was accented again today in the preliminary qualifying lists for the U.S. Open championship.

Fledgling pros and men in their 20s played feature roles as the first ax-job was done on a record entry list of 2,402 aiming at the most important of all golf tournaments, scheduled June 11-13 at the Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y.

A 26-year-old Seattle professional now an assistant at Winged Foot—Rod Funseth — topped the largest and one of the toughest qualifying tests at Rye, N.Y. Funseth shot 70-68—138 over two of the Westchester Country Club courses in pacing 173 players.

Another qualifier was Bob Jones III of Pittsfield, Mass., son of the former grand slammer.

Bill Collins, 30, of Lutherville, Md., who was on the verge of quitting the tour at the start of the year, shared the low medal score of 135 with Gardner Dickinson, the Ben Hogan-look alike from West Palm Beach, Fla., and Ewing Pomeroy, a 45-year-old home pro from Atlanta.

The survivors plus 49 exempt players must attempt a second round of qualifying—the sectional eliminations — June 1. Twenty players, including the last five past champions are exempt all the way. Only 150 will go to the first tee June 11.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Jim Bunning, Tigers, had kind of day pitchers dream of, going 4-for-4, driving in five runs with a homer, triple and two singles while winning fourth in a row in 14-2 romp over the Red Sox.

Pitching — Early Wynn, White Sox, won third in row with a five-hitter for 9-2 decision over the Senators that put the Sox in American League lead.

The Boston Red Sox signed 27 scouts the first two months of 1959. Twelve are former major league players.

Hearing Underway To See If Sugar Ray Is Champ

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This is all very complicated. You see, Sugar Ray Robinson still is world middleweight champion in New York state. But he wants to fight Carmen Basilio in Pennsylvania. That is National Boxing Assn. Territory where Robinson no longer is champ.

In order to discover if Robinson has complied with a court order to "enter into terms of agreement to defend against Basilio," The New York State Athletic Commission is conducting a hearing. After the hearing it will decide whether Robinson still is champ.

Robinson claims he signed May 12 (three days before the court and commission deadline) to fight Basilio in Philadelphia, Sept. 21. Everybody admits Basilio has not signed. Now, who gets called? Basilio.

Marvin Machat, Robinson's attorney, paraded various witnesses before the commission. Al Lein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, said he had approved the one-sided contract for the Philadelphia fight.

Basilio has a prepared statement that was distributed to the commission by his lawyer, State Sen. Lawrence Rulison of Syracuse, N. Y. After looking at the statement, the commission decided to agree to Machat's request and call Basilio to appear Wednesday.

The statement was not made public.

Phils Release Hearn

Bunning Hikes Average After 4-For-4 Show

BOSTON (AP) — It's almost frightening to think what might happen if Jim Bunning, a slim right-handed pitcher for Detroit, played in Fenway Park every day.

On July 20, 1958, for example, he threw a no-hitter against Boston at Fenway. His lifetime record against the Red Sox is 10-5.

But it's doubtful that he ever turned in a better day at Fenway than he did Monday.

Bunning had a 4-for-4 hitting performance, including a home run and a triple, drove in five runs and spaced seven hits in heading a 14 - 2 assault on the down-trodden Red Sox.

"It's the best day I ever had," he beamed later. "I once went 3-for-3, but never 4-for-4."

Benton Scores Upset Decision Over Boyd

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George Benton proved his right to meet some of the nation's better middleweights by an upset 10-round decision over Bobby Boyd Monday night. Now he wants the television audience to see how good he is.

Only 3,452 fans—and no TV cameras—were at the arena to see Benton win unanimously what he had described as the big bout of his career. The unranked Philadelphian was convicing in shellacking the 10th-ranked middleweight from Chicago with a head-hunting attack.

Bobby Jones' Son Qualifies For U.S. Open

The name: Robert Jones.

The immortal Bobby's son, Robert Tyre Jones III, put the famous name in view again by qualifying in a district preliminary for the U. S. Open championship.

Just 30 years ago, Bobby won the Open at the Winged Foot Country Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y., where this year's Open will be played June 11-13.

He qualified Monday with a 149 on the par-72 Schuyler Meadows course outside Albany.

It was the first time he's qualified in Open competition after trying "a couple of times before in the past five years."

To enter the Open, he still must hurdle a sectional qualifier at Springfield, N.J., June 1.

He says he especially wants to make the Open at Winged Foot because of his father's victory there.

Maryland Takes Look At Race Track Revenue

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's fiscal experts will have to take a long, hard look at anticipated revenue from the state's 12 thoroughbred and harness race tracks.

An 8 to 9 per cent drop in attendance at the Laurel and Pimlico spring meetings has sent parimutle play tumbling despite the addition of a ninth race to the daily programs at all tracks this year

Only at Bowie, which opened the season in February, did attendance and betting hold their own. But there was no 8 per cent increase in the handle as revenue experts predicted when the extra race was added.

An early appraisal indicates the per capita betting this year is higher than in 1958, but a percentage of the fans are being lured elsewhere—or can't make it to the track.

JOHN MOSTYN (right) has his own cheering section as he works out on the track at Bergen Catholic High School at Crandell, N. J. Mostyn, 18, shocked AAU officials when he equalled the world's 100-yard-dash record of 9.3 seconds in a meet at Englewood, N. J., Saturday. His classmates won't have many more times to watch him run as the track star expects to enter a Catholic religious order upon graduation. (UPI Telephoto)

Youth Movement Is On In Professional Golf

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The youth movement in golf, highlighted in America's Walker Cup victory last weekend, was accented again today in the preliminary qualifying lists for the U.S. Open championship.

Fledgling pros and men in their 20s played feature roles as the first ax-job was done on a record entry list of 2,402 aiming at the most important of all golf tournaments, scheduled June 11-13 at the Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y.

A 26-year-old Seattle professonal now an assistant at Winged Foot—Rod Funseth — topped the largest and one of the toughest qualifying tests at Rye, N.Y. Funseth shot 70-68—138 over two of the Westchester Country Club courses in pacing 173 players.

Another qualifier was Bob Jones III of Pittsfield, Mass., son of the former grand slammer.

Bill Collins, 30, of Lutherville, Md., who was on the verge of quitting the tour at the start of the year, shared the low medal score of 135 with Gardner Dickinson, the Ben Hogan-look alike from West Palm Beach, Fla., and Ewing Pomeroy, a 45-year-old home pro from Atlanta.

In these preliminary tryouts, a total of 2,333 golfers were shooting for 428 places. This includes tests today at Chicago and Des Moines.

The survivors plus 49 exempt players must attempt a second round of qualifying—the sectional eliminations — June 1. Twenty players, including the last five past champions are exempt all the way. Only 150 will go to the first tee June 11.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Jim Bunning, Tigers, had kind of day pitchers dream of, going 4-for-4, driving in five runs with a homer, triple and two singles while winning fourth in a row in 14-2 romp over the Red Sox.

Pitching — Early Wynn, White Sox, won third in row with a five-hitter for 9-2 decision over the Senators that put the Sox in American League lead.

The Boston Red Sox signed 27 scouts the first two months of 1959. Twelve are former major league players.

Hearing Underway To See If Sugar Ray Is Champ

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This is all very complicated. You see, Sugar Ray Robinson still is world middleweight champion in New York state. But he wants to fight Carmen Basilio in Pennsylvania. That is National Boxing Assn. Territory where Robinson no longer is champ.

In order to discover if Robinson has complied with a court order to "enter into terms of agreement to defend against Basilio," The New York State Athletic Commission is conducting a hearing. After the hearing it will decide whether Robinson still is champ.

Robinson claims he signed May 12 (three days before the court and commission deadline) to fight Basilio in Philadelphia, Sept. 21. Everybody admits Basilio has not signed. Now, who gets called? Basilio.

Marvin Machat, Robinson's attorney, paraded various witnesses before the commission. Al Lein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, said he had approved the one-sided contract for the Philadelphia fight.

Basilio has a prepared statement that was distributed to the commission by his lawyer, State Sen. Lawrence Rulison of Syracuse, N. Y. After looking at the statement, the commission decided to agree to Machat's request and call Basilio to appear Wednesday.

The statement was not made public.

Phils Release Hearn

Bunning Hikes Average After 4-For-4 Show

BOSTON (AP) — It's almost frightening to think what might happen if Jim Bunning, a slim right-handed pitcher for Detroit, played in Fenway Park every day.

On July 20, 1958, for example, he threw a no-hitter against Boston at Fenway. His lifetime record against the Red Sox is 10-5.

But it's doubtful that he ever turned in a better day at Fenway than he did Monday.

Bunning had a 4-for-4 hitting performance, including a home run and a triple, drove in five runs and spaced seven hits in heading a 14 - 2 assault on the down-trodden Red Sox.

"It's the best day I ever had," he beamed later. "I once went 3-for-3, but never 4-for-4."

Benton Scores Upset Decision Over Boyd

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George Benton proved his right to meet some of the nation's better middleweights by an upset 10-round decision over Bobby Boyd Monday night. Now he wants the television audience to see how good he is.

Only 3,452 fans—and no TV cameras—were at the arena to see Benton win unanimously what he had described as the big bout of his career. The unranked Philadelphian was convicing in shellacking the 10th-ranked middleweight from Chicago with a head-hunting attack.

Bobby Jones' Son Qualifies For U.S. Open

The name: Robert Jones.

The immortal Bobby's son, Robert Tyre Jones III, put the famous name in view again by qualifying in a district preliminary for the U. S. Open championship.

Just 30 years ago, Bobby won the Open at the Winged Foot Country Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y., where this year's Open will be played June 11-13.

Nevertheless," he's won the championship of the Pittsfield Country Club, his home course, several times.

He qualified Monday with a 149 on the par-72 Schuyler Meadows course outside Albany.

It was the first time he's qualified in Open competition after trying "a couple of times before in the past five years."

To enter the Open, he still must hurdle a sectional qualifier at Springfield, N.J., June 1.

He says he especially wants to make the Open at Winged Foot because of his father's victory there.

Maryland Takes Look At Race Track Revenue

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's fiscal experts will have to take a long, hard look at anticipated revenue from the state's 12 thoroughbred and harness race tracks.

An 8 to 9 per cent drop in attendance at the Laurel and Pimlico spring meetings has sent parimutle play tumbling despite the addition of a ninth race to the daily programs at all tracks this year

Only at Bowie, which opened the season in February, did attendance and betting hold their own. But there was no 8 per cent increase in the handle as revenue experts predicted when the extra race was added.

An early appraisal indicates the per capita betting this year is higher than in 1958, but a percentage of the fans are being lured elsewhere—or can't make it to the track.

Student, 21, Convicted Of Rape-Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—David S. Smith, 21-year-old part-time university student, was found guilty on two counts of first degree murder early today in the rape-slaying of Mrs. Janice O. Porter, an expectant mother.

The panel deliberated more than eight hours before returning the convictions on charges of premediated murder and murder while attempting to commit rape.

She relaxed and smiled slightly as the jury foreman added the recommendation of mercy. Then she tearfully buried her face in a jacket as the second verdict was announced.

Several minutes later she said: "Isn't this wonderful—my boy will get to live."

Judge Kenneth L. Sater deferred sentencing but defense attorneys said they had no plans to appeal.

8 Convicts Hurt Selves As Way To Voice Complaints

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Eight tough, long-term convicts at a prison camp for incorrigibles chose self mutilation as a means of registering complaints Monday.

"They wanted television, store privileges and they fussed about the food," Bailey said.

The incident occurred at Ivy Bluff Camp in Caswell County. The men were brought to Central Prison Hospital here for treatment.

Only 35 to 40 men are confined at Ivy Bluff, a camp for convicts who fail to conform to prison regulations. The men work in a rock quarry. Bailey commented, "Men will do anything to get away from there."

Bailey said the State Bureau of Investigation will look into the matter.

Patrolman Stops Man From Leap To Death

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—As a patrolman was making out a report Monday on a man's death leap, he got a cryptic phone call from a driver on the Pulaski Skyway.

"Tell my wife I'm sorry," the voice said. Then the phone went dead.

Police identified the man as John Dundas, 35, of Jersey City. He was booked on a charge of attempted suicide.

Youth, 19, Writes Off Fine On License Count

Judge Kenneth F. Romprey had him write "I will not drive again without a license" on a blackboard until told to stop.

After about 20 minutes, during which the sentence was spelled out 40 times, the judge released Caouette and suspended a $10 fine.

Thorn Plans To Enroll At West Virginia

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — The basketball fortunes at West Virginia University have taken another upward swing with the announcement by Princeton's Rod Thorn that he will enroll there next fall.

Thorn, probably the state's most heralded high school performer after four brilliant seasons at Princeton, said last night that he plans to work during the summer in Charleston and begin college at the university afterward.

The slender 6-4 scoring star plans to play summer league basketball in Charleston.

Thorn confirmed that he narrowed down his choices of schools between West Virginia and the University of Maryland. He said he expects to take a pre-medical school course and go on the medical college at Morgantown.

"By the time I get to medical school, I think West Virginia will have a very good one," Thorn commented.

He said the kind of basketball West Virginia plays is to his liking and he has the highest possible regard for Coach Fred Schaus.

More than 70 colleges reportedly sought Thorn's services. He made the All-State team the past three seasons.

Schaus said, "We're certainly tickled to death to have him. We know what a fine boy he is. We think he'll be a tremendous asset to the university."

The coach explained that Thorn would get the regular athletic grant-in-aid running for four years.

Eddie-Liz Honeymoon Yacht Sails Into Cannes

CANNES, France (AP) — The Elizabeth Taylor-Eddie Fisher honeymoon yacht sailed lazily into Cannes early this morning with the newlyweds out of sight.

But the weather has turned gloomy on the French Riviera, and crewmen of the rented yacht Olnico said they would sail later today for Portofino, Italy.

The bride will miss a reunion with her three children in Nice. The children — by former husbands Michael Wilding and Mike Todd — will pass through the airport there Thursday enroute to Italy. They may be reunited with mama there.

Father, Son Working Together Electrocuted

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — A father and his son, working side by side on a power line project near here, were electrocuted Monday.

The victims were Oscar Morris and his son, J. L. Morris of Cheraw, S.C. The younger Morris had been working with his father only two weeks.

They were part of a crew stringing a new line between here and nearby Hamlet. Authorities said the dead line the men were pulling into place slipped, whiplashed and touched a live wire on another pole.

Student, 21, Convicted Of Rape-Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—David S. Smith, 21-year-old part-time university student, was found guilty on two counts of first degree murder early today in the rape-slaying of Mrs. Janice O. Porter, an expectant mother.

The Criminal Court jury of eight men and four women, however, recommended mercy, thus saving the youth from the electric chair.

The panel deliberated more than eight hours before returning the convictions on charges of premediated murder and murder while attempting to commit rape.

The defense had entered pleas of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Mrs. Porter, 24, who was momentarily expecting the birth of her first child, was sexually assaulted and fatally shot Dec. 16 at the home of her father-in-law near here where she and her dental student husband lived.

She relaxed and smiled slightly as the jury foreman added the recommendation of mercy. Then she tearfully buried her face in a jacket as the second verdict was announced.

Several minutes later she said: "Isn't this wonderful—my boy will get to live."

The defendant was impassive during the jury's deliberation and the verdict failed to move him.

Judge Kenneth L. Sater deferred sentencing but defense attorneys said they had no plans to appeal.

In the defense's final arguments Monday, Attorney Ralph G. Smith again brought in the insanity contention, calling Smith an "introverted mama's boy" and "a child in a man's body."

8 Convicts Hurt Selves As Way To Voice Complaints

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Eight tough, long-term convicts at a prison camp for incorrigibles chose self mutilation as a means of registering complaints Monday.

"They wanted television, store privileges and they fussed about the food," Bailey said.

The incident occurred at Ivy Bluff Camp in Caswell County. The men were brought to Central Prison Hospital here for treatment.

Only 35 to 40 men are confined at Ivy Bluff, a camp for convicts who fail to conform to prison regulations. The men work in a rock quarry. Bailey commented, "Men will do anything to get away from there."

Bailey said the State Bureau of Investigation will look into the matter.

Asst. Prisons Director Robert Allen recalled that four inmates hit themselves with sledge hammers about a year ago, prompting an investigation into charges of mistreatment of prisoners at the camp. One of the men broke his leg.

Patrolman Stops Man From Leap To Death

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—As a patrolman was making out a report Monday on a man's death leap, he got a cryptic phone call from a driver on the Pulaski Skyway.

"Tell my wife I'm sorry," the voice said. Then the phone went dead.

Patrolman John Schroeder sped two miles in his squad car to the skyway telephone. He grabbed a man atop the guard rail 100 feet above the ground.

Police identified the man as John Dundas, 35, of Jersey City. He was booked on a charge of attempted suicide.

Youth, 19, Writes Off Fine On License Count

The youth was charged with driving a car without a license.

Judge Kenneth F. Romprey had him write "I will not drive again without a license" on a blackboard until told to stop.

After about 20 minutes, during which the sentence was spelled out 40 times, the judge released Caouette and suspended a $10 fine.

Thorn Plans To Enroll At West Virginia

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — The basketball fortunes at West Virginia University have taken another upward swing with the announcement by Princeton's Rod Thorn that he will enroll there next fall.

Thorn, probably the state's most heralded high school performer after four brilliant seasons at Princeton, said last night that he plans to work during the summer in Charleston and begin college at the university afterward.

The slender 6-4 scoring star plans to play summer league basketball in Charleston.

Thorn confirmed that he narrowed down his choices of schools between West Virginia and the University of Maryland. He said he expects to take a pre-medical school course and go on the medical college at Morgantown.

"By the time I get to medical school, I think West Virginia will have a very good one," Thorn commented.

He said the kind of basketball West Virginia plays is to his liking and he has the highest possible regard for Coach Fred Schaus.

More than 70 colleges reportedly sought Thorn's services. He made the All-State team the past three seasons.

Rod said he would like to play college baseball provided it would not interfere with his studies. Thorn is regarded a topnotch student.

Schaus said, "We're certainly tickled to death to have him. We know what a fine boy he is. We think he'll be a tremendous asset to the university."

Eddie-Liz Honeymoon Yacht Sails Into Cannes

CANNES, France (AP) — The Elizabeth Taylor-Eddie Fisher honeymoon yacht sailed lazily into Cannes early this morning with the newlyweds out of sight.

But the weather has turned gloomy on the French Riviera, and crewmen of the rented yacht Olnico said they would sail later today for Portofino, Italy.

The bride will miss a reunion with her three children in Nice. The children — by former husbands Michael Wilding and Mike Todd — will pass through the airport there Thursday enroute to Italy. They may be reunited with mama there.

Father, Son Working Together Electrocuted

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — A father and his son, working side by side on a power line project near here, were electrocuted Monday.

The victims were Oscar Morris and his son, J. L. Morris of Cheraw, S.C. The younger Morris had been working with his father only two weeks.

They were part of a crew stringing a new line between here and nearby Hamlet. Authorities said the dead line the men were pulling into place slipped, whiplashed and touched a live wire on another pole.

Man Serves On Carrier

NEW CUMBERLAND — Boilerman 1C Arthur G. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Ward, 921 2nd Ave., is serving aboard the anti-submarine support aircraft carrier Lake Champlain, operating out of Mayport, Fla. He is the husband of the former Miss Winifred Swain.

'Race' Allegation Left Unsettled But Drivers Pay Fines

Although two young drivers denied from the witness stand that they were involved in a "drag race" when Patrolman W. E. Nott arrested them May 3, Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw convicted them of reckless driving after a lengthy hearing today and decreed a fine of $10 and costs for each.

The defendants were John D. Board, 22, of Georgetown R. D. 1 and John L. Bird, 22, of 10 Ruth St., charged originally with reckless driving by driving at a high rate of speed while involved in a drag race.

Patrolman Nott testified he halted Bird after hearing two cars roar away from the traffic light at E. 5th and Washington Sts. at a high rate of speed. Board was not halted, as the officer was on foot beat. However, he was halted on Broadway a short time later by another officer and instructed to report to headquarters.

Both Board and Bird estimated their speed at 30 miles an hour. They denied they were involved in a race. Officer Nott testified Bird was able to halt his car within 30 feet.

'Race' Allegation Left Unsettled But Drivers Pay Fines

Although two young drivers denied from the witness stand that they were involved in a "drag race" when Patrolman W. E. Nott arrested them May 3, Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw convicted them of reckless driving after a lengthy hearing today and decreed a fine of $10 and costs for each.

The defendants were John D. Board, 22, of Georgetown R. D. 1 and John L. Bird, 22, of 10 Ruth St., charged originally with reckless driving by driving at a high rate of speed while involved in a drag race.

Patrolman Nott testified he halted Bird after hearing two cars roar away from the traffic light at E. 5th and Washington Sts. at a high rate of speed. Board was not halted, as the officer was on foot beat. However, he was halted on Broadway a short time later by another officer and instructed to report to headquarters.

Both Board and Bird estimated their speed at 30 miles an hour. They denied they were involved in a race. Officer Nott testified Bird was able to halt his car within 30 feet.
